FIGHT TO SAVE UNIT GOES ON

By Deborah Hardiman

LABOUR'S election hopeful has vowed to fight to keep Cannock's Minor Injuries Unit fully open and has accused a health body of being 'out of touch'.

The GP-led Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) says it will keep the unit open, but wants to reduce the opening hours as part of efficiency savings.

The group had originally planned to shut the unit at the Brunswick Road hospital in a bid to save £750,000, but had a change of heart. About 15 residents attended a consultation meeting at Avon Business and Leisure Centre, Avon Road, in Cannock, over the new proposal.

It heard in 2013/14 there were 19,043 visits – slightly down from 19,464 the year before.

Under the plans the unit would open from 11am to 7pm to deal with injuries such as bumps, bruises and cuts instead of the current times from 8am until midnight. A GP out-of-hours service would run overnight from 6.30pm to 8am to deal with minor illnesses, for example if someone has a high temperature.

But parliamentary candidate Janos Toth said: "The CCG has got it wrong and this is just about cost cutting.

Agenda

"I will continue to campaign to save the Minor Injuries Unit and will be out petitioning over the weekend. So far the campaign has been partly successful with closure now off the agenda. The CCG is out of touch and the campaign continues.

"People in Cannock Chase campaigned for years to have a proper hospital and that's top priority for residents."

Speaking at the meeting, Cannock North ward representative Councillor Gordon Alcott said: "I am not in favour of the reduction in hours or the way the CCG has gone about this consultation process.

"At the end of the day it is down to money and health service funding has been cut under this Government."

Retired teacher Anne Wearing, aged 62, of Great Wyrley, said: "I have made use of the minor injuries unit and which I have found to be a brilliant service. My concern is for the staff. They are very experienced and we do not want to lose them."

Rugeley GP and clinical lead for primary care Dr Mohammed Huda said he was pleased that residents had turned out.

Extra date for public to have say

CCG bosses have responded to public feedback by organising a further evening meeting as part of the consultation into the Cannock Minor Injuries Unit.

The group this week announced that another meeting, which is open to the public, will be held on Wednesday, September 24 at Cannock Chase Council's Civic Ballroom, Beecroft Road, from 6-8pm.

A meeting was taking place yesterday (Wednesday), at the Aquarius Ballroom, Victoria Shopping Park, Hednesford, with another consultation event also planned for the Rugeley Rose Theatre and Community Hall, Taylors Lane, from 6-8pm on Thursday, September 18.

CCG Chairman Dr Johnny McMahon said: "We have listened to public feedback and arranged an evening meeting in Cannock for later this month. I would urge as many people as possible to book a place and attend one of our meetings."

To book a place, request a hard copy of the document, or for more details, email miu.feedback@staffordshirecss.nhs.uk or call 0300 404 2999 ext 6852

Hospital handover date now confirmed

THE trust which runs New Cross Hospital has taken on an extra 534 staff ahead of its takeover of Cannock.

Bosses have confirmed the takeover will take place on November 1, meaning Cannock will officially come uner the control of the Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust.

The bulk of the staff are at Cannock – with a small amount taken on from Stafford – and their contracts will be switched over on the day of the handover.

They will remain working in the same hospital, but work for the Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust instead.

Surgery

It is not yet known exactly which services and how many staff will transfer from New Cross to Cannock.

It has previously been stated that all non-emergency surgery will now be held at Cannock instead of New Cross.

Free shuttle buses will ferry Wolverhampton patients to the Cannock site, in Brunswick Road. Buses will stop at Wolverhampton Bus Station and at stops along the way, although locations have not yet been revealed.

Motorcyclist hurt in fall

A MOTORCYCLIST was airlifted to hospital after falling from his bike and sustaining multiple injuries.

The rider came off his bike in Cannock Road, Penkridge, just after 2.40pm on Sunday. He was airlifted to the major trauma unit at University Hospital of North Staffordshire.

An Ambulance Service spokesman said: "The motorcyclist had suffered serious multiple injuries to his shoulder, chest and head."

Pupils work like an Egyptian

YOUNGSTERS in Cheslyn Hay have taken inspiration from ancient civilisation for their autumn term topic.

Glenthorne Primary children and staff dressed as Egyptians and Greeks for an Inspiration Day.

Years Three and Four are learning about ancient Egypt, including pharaohs and goddesses, and as well as dressing accordingly, enjoyed Egyptian dancing and making pyramids. Ancient Greeks are the topic for the older pupils, and they donned outfits, made Greek pots and researched the history of gods and mythology.

A spokesman for the Glenthorne Drive school said: "All children throughout Key Stage 2 had a fantastic day and thoroughly enjoyed learning about events relating to their topic. Our Inspiration Days are a way of inspiring their learning."

Toll road operators in church donation

CHURCHGOERS have had a helping hand in their bid to raise thousands of pounds for repair work.

St Anne's has served the parish of Chasetown since 1866 when it was built by local mine owner, John Robinson McLean MP for mineworkers and their families.

M6 Toll operators Midland Expressway Limited (MEL), have donated £1,000 to phase 2 of the repair project. CEO Tom Fanning said: "The fundraising campaign was bought to my attention by one of my members of staff, Burntwood resident David Chalaye.

Agreed

"He detailed the £183,000 project to my social committee and it was agreed to make a donation towards the £30,000 which still needed to be raised.

"The church is a very important part of our heritage and it is vital that it is kept in good repair."

Rev David Brook said: "The campaign received an English Heritage pledge of £151,000, leaving the congregation and community to raise the remaining amount. We are extremely grateful to MEL's social committee for their generous donation."

Repairs began in April and should be completed by October in time to celebrate the church's 150th year.

Coffee break at trust HQ

A COFFEE morning will raise money for Staffordshire Wildlife Trust tomorrow (Friday).

Admission is £1 which includes a drink, with proceeds going towards the trust's work.

Visitors can also enjoy cakes, jams, plants and second hand books

Medical equipment given to surgery

CHARITY fundraisers have collected hundreds of pounds to pay for new medical equipment at a doctors' surgery.

The Rugeley and District Lions Club have donated a nebuliser to the Sandy Lane Health Centre. The machine helps people breathe in medicine. The Lions Club spent around £160 on the equipment after raising the money by hosting various events throughout the year.

Members decided to buy the nebuliser after receiving a request from Asthma Relief for a donation towards the purchase of one.

President John Holmes said it was an ideal way to put back some of the funds raised over the last year into the community.

He added: "This is a good example of how we can help the local community and I am glad that we were able to purchase a nebuliser for the local surgery, which will be available to the Rugeley district."

Breast cancer patients in plea over treatment

By Tim Spiers

A CAMPAIGN has been launched to keep breast surgery at New Cross Hospital instead of moving it to Cannock.

Members of a support group based at New Cross said they are horrified that surgery will be moved despite patients getting their initial treatment in Wolverhampton.

The chair of the campaign group, which has already attracted 600 signatures to a petition, hit out at health chiefs for a 'dreadful' consultation process and said they felt their opinions were irrelevant as the plans were going ahead anyway.

She also questioned how patients from Wolverhampton would be able to get to Cannock for 7am in time for day surgery.

Buses

The changes are due to come into force later this year. Shuttle buses will ferry patients from New Cross to Cannock in a move designed to free up space at the Wednesfield-based hospital to cope with its increasing workload.

Patients from Staffordshire have besieged the hospital due to the dissolution of the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust leading to services being moved elsewhere.

Jean Hancox is chair of the Breast Cancer Action and Support Group, based at New Cross' Deanesly Centre.

The 69-year-old, from Tettenhall, said the consultation had been 'rushed and not well publicised'.

She added: "The members are horrified.

"Thirty per cent of women who get breast cancer are over the age of 75 – if they've got no one to take them to Cannock from Wolverhampton, to get to Cannock for 7am would be very difficult.

"We're not assured this would be better at Cannock and no groups have been consulted about this.

"The impression is that the plans are being pushed through and are already done and dusted."

Breast Cancer Action and Support Group in protest over relocation plans

All members of the group are breast cancer survivors.

The consultation was launched on July 18 and has included three public meetings, attended by more than 100 people in total, in Wolverhampton.

It runs until October 17 with a final meeting being held at Molineux on October 8.

Maxine Espley, director of planning and contracting at the Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust, defended the consultation process.

She said: "We are pleased with the number of responses received to date as over 1,300 hits have been recorded on the consultation website and over 300 responses to the consultation questions have been received to date.

Questions

"During the public events we have answered a number of questions including the issue of transport.

"We have confirmed our plans to work with a bus company to provide a shuttle bus to the Cannock site from a number of stops in Wolverhampton (including the bus station and New Cross).

"This will be free for patients travelling between New Cross and Cannock and further details will be made available once these are finalised."

Up to 30,000 patients will descend on Cannock every year for non-emergency procedures and surgery in radical proposals that will see health chiefs from Wolverhampton run the hospital in Cannock, which until now has been virtually empty.

Students show off skills for final spot

FOUR beauty therapy students from South Staffs College have made it through to the national finals of WorldSkills UK.

Stevie Sherlock, Emily Slater, Nicole Newman and Jade Aspley will represent the college at the final at the NEC in Birmingham.

The college's chief executive principal, Graham Morley, said: "The college's ongoing participation in WorldSkills competitions provides tremendous opportunities for learners to further develop their skills and enhance their confidence."

Categories

They took top spots in the regional final held in Newcastle-under-Lyme in the nail enhancements and nail art and beauty categories.

The national final is being held from November 13-15.

WorldSkills UK is a series of regional and national skills competitions delivered each year across the UK for young people and adults.

The competitions aim to showcase excellence and help lift standards of training and performance and culminate in a world final every two years.

Fine art sale is extended

A FINE art auction in Penkridge has been extended and will be held over two days.

A bumper consignment of artwork, antiques, jewellery, silver and furniture has enabled Cuttlestone's to host the auction today (Thursday) and tomorrow.

The catalogue stands at around 1,000 lots.

The first day sees vintage clothing, furs, textiles and accessories, vintage and costume jewellery and fine jewellery sections. Tomorrow's lots include wristwatches, artworks, furniture; silver and gold, metalware, clocks and barometers.

4G coverage

HIGH speed internet for mobile phones has been launched in Rugeley and Burntwood – among 13 towns in all – by operators EE. The company's chief executive Olaf Swantee said: "Businesses and communities increasingly demand 4G coverage."

New volunteers pass the lifesaving test

New Community First Responder recruits with trainers and, a representative from Carillion

A NEW team of volunteer lifesavers have been signed up to respond to medical emergencies in their local community.

Thirteen Community First Responders have completed a week-long course in Cannock and can now provide emergency care before an ambulance arrives.

They are members of the public who are trained up to respond quickly in remote rural areas to those who have fallen ill. Studies included a life support test, a written exam and a final assessment.

Following their training, each of the volunteers must now complete a number of observational shifts with ambulance crews before they respond to emergencies.

The recruits will join a team of 263 responders across the county. The scheme is entirely funded by charitable donations.

Victoria Tufail, WMAS community response manager said: "West Midlands Ambulance Service prides itself on having excellent community schemes that are in place around the region. Community First Responders are vital in rural communities and it is thanks to their efforts, dedication and actions that lives have been saved.

"Some 85 per cent of people who suffer cardiac arrests have the ability to be corrected by defibrillation. For every minute a patient is in cardiac arrest, their chance of survival decreases by 10 per cent."

CFR volunteers must be aged 18-70, have a current driving licence and be physically fit. Visit www.wmas.nhs.uk/Pages/CFRs.aspx

Tweet all about it – 'big cat' is sighted on Chase

SEEING is simply believing for one visitor to Cannock Chase who was stopped in his tracks by what looks like a wild cat while out walking at the popular beauty spot.

The image of the feline creature was captured on film and posted on social network Twitter by user OrangeCat@Cocktimusprime4 who says: "I saw the #Cannock #Chase #Cat today walked up tree and stared at me it was the size of an average dog."

The photograph shows a cat-like creature sitting on a branch amid thick foliage with its back to the lens.

It is the latest reported sighting of a big cat in the forest.

Rumours about mysterious beasts roaming the site have become legendary.

Impression

In August 2009 there were reports of big cats preying on deer on the Chase. The following year a large paw print was discovered in Norton Canes by plumber Kevin Goodson as he walked his two labradors.

The discovery of the six-inch impression came a fortnight after a deer kill prompted fears of a big cat stalking the Chase.

Retired miner Steve Allatt, of Heath Hayes, discovered a fawn lying dead in a ditch with two puncture holes in its neck.

An expert from the Exotic Animal Registry, based in Bristol, said that a black panther may have been responsible for it. The legends about the beasts of Cannock Chase and the Wyre Forest has inspired television wildlife expert Martin Belderson, of BBC's Wildlife On One and Horizon, to write a novel under the pen-name Jack Churchill.

It is believed panthers and pumas might have been on the Chase as far back as the 1940s. Some big cats, like leopards and pumas, like to have large territories to roam round and often cover distances of about 30 miles a day.

Experts believe it would be easy for big cats to move between counties.

Student makes it count in maths

Catherine Davies from Burntwood who has won a top maths award

SUCCESS all adds up for a maths graduate who has been presented with a prestigious award for scoring top marks in her exams.

Catherine Davies, aged 21, was recognised for achieving the highest exam results on her course by the Institute of Mathematics and its Applications.

The graduate from Davy Close, Chasetown gained a first in her degree after completing a three-year maths course at the school of engineering and applied science at Aston University in Birmingham.

The former Chasetown Specialist Sports College student said: "I didn't expect to get this award but it is very nice to be recognised. It was a lot of hard work over the three years and I am very proud."

Catherine, who graduated in July, was presented the award after the Institute of Mathematics and its Applications gave each university two awards to hand out to their two top students.

She said: "Maths was my best subject at school, after studying it as one of my A levels I knew I wanted to study it further.

"My maths degree will also provide me with a variety of career opportunities."

Parking problem talks

PLANS are being drawn up to tackle predicted parking problems around Cannock Hospital as it is taken over by Wolverhampton health chiefs. More than 20,000 outpatient cases a year will move from New Cross Hospital.

Talks are taking place about how to stop surrounding roads becoming clogged. Meetings are being held between highways chiefs and bosses at Royal Wolverhampton Hospitals Trust.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Party marks first year of building

A CANNOCK woman will be guest of honour at a building's first birthday party tomorrow (Friday).

Dora Dean was one of the first guests at the Age UK facility Sir Julian House.

The building, in Walsall Road, Bridgtown, caters for older people with dementia and complex needs. Dora will cut a cake to mark its first anniversary.

Over the last 12 months, users have enjoyed wartime activities, vintage afternoon teas, creative craft sessions, speakers and cookery demonstrations.

Mini-market held in aid of church

A MINI-market this weekend will raise money for Great Wyrley Methodist Church.

Stalls on Saturday (September 13) will include a raffle, bric-a-brac, tombola, groceries and local crafts.

In addition, there will be a fresh fruit and vegetable stall. Refreshments will be available including tea or coffee and bacon sandwiches.

It takes place from 10.30am to noon. Admission is free and all proceeds will go to the church.

War book author will sign copies

THE author of a book commemorating the First World war will sign copies in Hednesford.

A Hundred Years On: The Great War And Other Events on Cannock Chase will be launched at the Museum of Cannock Chase on November 6, from 2-4pm.

Author Christopher John will give two lectures and sign copies. Tickets are £1 but must be booked on 01543 877666.

Book chance to learn about deer

AN illustrated talk on the deer at Cannock Chase takes place this month.

People can find out more about the species on the site, how they go there and how they are managed.

It starts at 7.30pm on September 22 at the Visitor Centre, Marquis Drive.

It costs £2.50 per adult and booking is required on 01543 871773.

Rambling along

CHASE & District Ramblers meet at Hednesford railway station car park in Anglesey Street on Sunday for a 10-mile moderate walk at Ashbourne/Thorpe/Ilam/Mapleton. Departure time is 9am.

CAN we take it for granted that William Pooley will get a gong in the next Honours List for risking his life to save the life of others in the Ebola virus epidemic? Or does he have to sing pop songs, row a boat or ride a bike very fast as well?

MEREDYDD Hughes, head of South Yorkshire Police between 2004 and 2011, was damned by one tabloid for concentrating on speeding offences instead of child abusers. So let us turn the clock back to 2004. Tony Blair is prime minister. Charles Clarke is Home Secretary. Harriet Harman is Solicitor-General. And Chief Constable Hughes suddenly declares: "My priority is to stop Pakistani men raping little girls." He would have been sacked so fast you wouldn't have seen him for dust. Cops may share the guilt but the blame for this nightmare goes all the way to Downing Street.

THERE'S just one snag with the new school targets on grammar. The teachers can't teach. Alice Philips, president of the Girls' Schools Association, says thousands of young teachers have "little or no grounding in English language or grammar." Does that surprise anyone? We are steadily becoming an illiterate nation, blessed with the finest language this planet has ever seen but quite unable to use it.

Course will offer a zest for life

TWO Rugeley businesswomen have joined forces to put a 'Zest for Life' course.

Wellbeing coaches Kate Young and Melaney Doyle are running the course to coincide with National Work Life Week, from September 22 to 26, which will look to raise awareness of how stress at work and working long hours can damage your health and wellbeing.

The 12-week course, supported by Lichfield District Council vice chairman Councillor Ken Humphreys, aims to help people feel happier and healthier.

It starts on Wednesday, September 17, from 7 to 8.30pm at the Methodist Community Centre, Backcester Lane, Lichfield.

It will cover topics such as getting a great night's sleep, increasing confidence, learning to relax and managing stress. Melaney said: "Stress triggers around 70 per cent of visits to the doctor, which includes symptoms of anxiety, depression, low mood and panic attacks as well as illnesses that have been caused by stress such as heart disease.

"We want to show people how to take charge of their health and wellbeing, increase their resilience to stress, improve their sleep and feel amazing."

The course costs £86 or £8 per class. Everyone who completes it will receive a free email course with weekly advice. Full details at www.kateyoungcoaching.co.uk

Places are limited. To book, call Kate on 07816 837966 or 01889 802732 or email kate@mpowerpd.co.uk

Children's centres to face axe in shake-up

FORTY-FOUR children's centres across Staffordshire – including all 23 based at schools – are to close under new plans to shake up provision for the under-fives.

Pre-school youngsters will instead be catered for in community centres, village halls – or even in in their own homes if necessary.

Bosses say the move is aimed at reaching vulnerable families who would most benefit from pre-school provision but are not using the service.

They describe it as a 'change of culture', needed to narrow the gap between achieving and poorly performing youngsters.

Figures for the county show that only 54 per cent of children are judged to have reached a good stage of development by the end of their first year at school.

Abysmal

County Councillor Mike Lawrence, cabinet member for children's services, said: "That is two per cent above the national average but it still means we are failing 46 per cent of youngsters and that's abysmal."

The new system will be cheaper to provide but the authority insists the proposed change is being driven by a desire to improve performance.

Councillor Lawrence said: "I'm spending £46m on children's services and only reaching 25 per cent of the population – and only 25 per cent of those are children from a deprived background, who are the ones we really want to help.

"That's not sustainable. We want to shift the culture and go out into the community and provide these services in places that parents will bring their children. If they want, we will come to their homes."

There are 54 children's centres in the county – 26 are dedicated children's centres, 23 are based at schools and others are in buildings such as libraries. Ten dedicated centres will be retained but the other buildings will be vacated.

Cannock Chase Children's Centre is expected to stay but Bridgtown's is being looked at for other uses. Hednesford, Huntington and Norton Canes are to transfer to schools.

The cabinet will decide next Wednesday whether to approve an eight-week consultation on the proposals.

Police hurt in collision

TWO police officers were injured when a car smashed into their vehicle on the M6 Toll. The road was closed between junctions T8 for Wedges Mills and T6 for Brownhills for about five hours after the smash at 10am on Saturday.

The officers were 'shaken' but not seriously hurt. The MG ZR, which travelled at up to 90mph, collided with the marked police BMW, causing both vehicles to crash into the central reservation and rest on the embankment.

The 23-year-old MG driver was taken to hospital with reported leg injuries. He was arrested on suspicion of dangerous driving, failing to stop and driving under the influence.

Care home action group

Laura Ashley, front, and mother Susan, with fellow Bracken House residents

CAMPAIGNERS have launched a fight to prevent three care homes in Staffordshire – including one in Burntwood – from closing.

The county council wants to shut Bracken House, along with other homes in Burton and Tamworth, and replace them with two multi-million pound dementia care centres.

Families have voiced concerns and fear a private company will take over the running of the new centres.

A group of 47 families from the three care homes have come together to form the group. Laura Ashley, aged 32, whose mother Susan, 63, suffers from dementia and is a resident at Bracken House, said: "My mum gets excellent care at the moment. When a private company comes in, you can't be sure things will stay the same."

Clair Bennett said: "Moving home is deemed one of the two most stressful events in the life of a person with a sound mind. For a person who has dementia and is not of sound mind, studies confirm death from stress is highly likely."

Superfast links to internet rolled out

RUGELEY and Colton have become the latest communities to benefit from the multi-million pound Superfast Staffordshire high-speed fibre broadband programme.

An additional 5,350 premises now have access to faster fibre broadband.

Engineers from BT Openreach had to work across a deep stream, off Bellamour Way, and overcome other challenges to lay the 13 kilometres of fibre optic cable needed to connect more than 250 homes and businesses in Colton.

An additional 23 kilometres of fibre optic cable has been laid in Rugeley and 30 new street-side fibre cabinets have been installed.

Some 95 per cent of homes and businesses across the county will have access to superfast broadband by spring 2016.

Staffordshire County Council's cabinet member for the economy, environment and transport, Mark Winnington, said: "Our rollout of the Superfast Staffordshire programme continues with people in Rugeley and Colton the latest to benefit."

Steve Henderson, BT's regional broadband partnerships director, said: "The arrival of fibre broadband means families are better connected and able to do much more online – and faster – than ever before."

Big band in church date

THE Hazel Slade Big Band perform a fundraising concert next weekend.

They are playing at and in aid of St Augustine's church, Station Road, Rugeley on Saturday, September 20, from 7.30pm.

Tickets, which start at £10, include refreshments. They are available from Bonsalls Florist, the Cake Decorating Stall in Rugeley indoor market or on the door.

Talk's war topic

JOANNA Terry will talk at Heath Hayes Library, Hednesford Road, on 'World War One Ancestry in National and Local Sources'. It is on Thursday, September 18, from 2-3pm. For tickets, priced at £3, or £2 for members, and including refreshments, call 01543 279675.

Boy hit on the head by falling crossbar

A 15-YEAR-old boy was airlifted to hospital after a crossbar fell on his head while playing football with his friends.

It happened in Arthur Street, Chadsmoor at about 5.30pm last Wednesday (September 3). Onlookers said it was believed the boy was trying to fix the crossbar back into place after it came loose.

West Midlands Ambulance Service spokesman Claire Brown said the boy's injuries did not appear to be serious, but he was airlifted to the University Hospital of North Staffordshire due to his age.

Resident Stan Freeman, aged 63, of St Paul's Road, which overlooks the park, said: "One of the goalposts is really loose."

Fellow resident Eddie Dalsh, 74, said: "The goalposts have become weaker over the years and have bent because some youngsters like to swing from them.

"The council needs to make sure the posts are properly secured."

Tom Walsh, Cannock Chase Council's parks and open spaces manager, said: "The council is carrying out a full investigation and will undertake any necessary repairs."

Another firm for Busy Bees

NURSERY group Busy Bees has bought another firm.

The private day care nursery operates from Burntwood and offers places for children aged three months to five years.

Its addition of Bitteswell Montessori in Bitteswell, Leicestershire, brings its number of nurseries to 239.

Busy Bees now employs and trains 7,500 staff and provides care for more than 21,000 children.

Marg Randles, co-founder and managing director, said: "We are delighted to welcome Bitteswell Montessori into the Busy Bees family."

Classic show

THE classic show Me & My Girl is being performed by Cannock Chase Drama Society this week. It runs until Saturday night (September 13) at the Prince of Wales Centre in Church Street, Cannock. Tickets range in price from £8 to £12.50. Call 01543 578762.

Don has an ink-ling for Wolves tattoo

Don Price and his tattoo

A 70-YEAR-old Wolves fan and a grandfather-of-seven has proved you're never too old to get a tattoo.

Cheslyn Hay businessman Don Price said: "I thought if David Dimbleby can have one, why can't I?"

A self-confessed big kid at heart, Don was looking for a way to express the love for his team when friends suggested the artwork.

It features the club's gold and black logo and the words taken from the famous supporters' banner that states 'This is our love, And it knows no division'.

Don said: "There's a group of about 10 of us who go to watch the games together. We were sitting down having a chat about what we could do to celebrate the Wolves doing so well. One of the group Andy Till suggested we should get tattoos with the words on the banner.

"I thought it was a brilliant idea. The last time I had a tattoo was about 50 years ago when I was 20. That was of an eagle because in those days people used to have birds tattooed on their arms.

"This time I thought if David Dimbleby can have one, why can't I and he's older than me."

The veteran broadcaster, aged 75, revealed a scorpion tattoo last year.

Now Don hopes the new Wolves tattoo will take off among other fans. "The reaction of my family has been amazing really. My wife Margaret says she likes it. The grandchildren think it's fantastic and the older ones want to copy it because they're all Wolves fans as well.

"I like to have a bit of a laugh and I'm a kid at heart really. They all know that."

Don watched his first Wolves game in 1954 when they were beaten 2-0 by Bolton Wanderers. He was also at the iconic night match with Honved the same year when the home side won 3-2.

"Once the Wolves has got you, it's got you, It has been a rollercoaster ride over the decades, but I'm loving it now."

Bursar jailed for £26,000 fraud at three schools

A MOTHER-of-two who fiddled more than £26,000 from three schools in Stafford has been jailed for five months.

Stafford Crown Court heard Tracy Taylor carried out the frauds over more than six years at Stafford Sports College, The Chetwynd Centre and Sir Graham Balfour School. Taylor, aged 41, of Lebanon Grove, Burntwood, admitted seven fraud charges.

The court heard Taylor was a senior finance officer, later bursar, at Stafford Sports College, while also carrying out part-time roles at the Chetwynd Centre and Sir Graham Balfour school, where she later became full-time bursar.

Miss Fiona Cortese, prosecuting, said a county council audit revealed a number of suspicious transactions involving cheques with no supporting documentation, which were reported to the head of the sports college.

Petrol

A total of 66 transactions, each for £300 in cash made payable to Taylor, were made for 'postage' between May 2008 and January 2013. Another £2,700 was booked in as 'running costs', and a £300 cheque marked as 'cancelled' had been cashed by Taylor. She also used the college's account for £70 worth of petrol.

Taylor cheated the Chetwynd Centre out of £500, which she wrote down as 'postage'.

She left the college last November to become full-time bursar at Sir Graham Balfour, fraudulently claiming £2,392 in overtime payments and £352 of petrol in 10 illicit transactions.

Mr Paul Lamb, defending, said it became a habit. Taylor's husband's redundancy in 2008 was the catalyst, followed by the deaths of her sister and father.

Pupils were denied by fraudster

POLICE say crook Tracy Taylor deprived pupils of vital resources by fiddling their schools out of thousands of pounds.

Detective Inspector David Wain of Staffordshire Police said: "Everyone in public office is in a position of significant trust and the public rightly expects the highest standards.

"This was the action of a single individual who deceived everyone and stole money from schools to finance her own lifestyle.

"This was not a victimless crime as she, by her actions, has deprived pupils of vital educational resources. A prison sentence is a just outcome."

Head of Sir Graham Balfour School, David Wright, said lessons had been learned. He said: "These were the actions of one rogue individual who, whilst in a position of considerable trust, sought to acquire illegally public money for personal gain."

Stafford Sports College released an identical statement and the head at The Chetwynd Centre was unavailable to comment.

Diamonds are a curl's best friend

Salon owner Donna Chapman in her new business 'Diamonds and Curls', set up at her Burntwood home

GLAMOROUS screen siren Marilyn Monroe is the inspiration behind a new 1950s hair salon set up in a converted garage in Burntwood.

Salon boss Donna Chapman decided it was time to launch out on her own after being in the business since she was 16.

She has now opened Diamonds and Curls at her own home.

It took two months to convert the family garage into a professional salon with its own entrance but she said the results have been worth it. The room is decked out in Marilyn Monroe wallpaper, posters and many of the star's quotations. It even has a working jukebox.

Mother to 11-year-old Tansie and Brody, aged eight, Donna, 38, previously worked in salons in Burntwood and Cheslyn Hay.

She can recreate the barrel curls style popular in the 1950s for customers wanting that retro look but says she will also be offering all the up-to-the-minute cuts. She said: "I love Marilyn Monroe and everything vintage so I've loved kitting out the salon in her style.

"I hope people appreciate it and the fact that, as a one-man-band, they get one-to-one treatment instead of about three different people working on them."

The salon will be open from Tuesday to Saturday inclusive and she is offering loyalty cards, giving a free cut or blow-dry after five visits.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A RUGELEY supermarket will raise money for charity as part of its first anniversary celebrations.

Tesco, in Leathermill Lane, marks the milestone on the weekend of September 26 and 27.

To celebrate, it will host a pirate themed party, with staff dressing up and customers joining in such activities as walking the plank, digging for treasure and face painting.

Children can enter a colouring competition, while all money raised over the weekend will go to Diabetes UK, the store's nominated charity for the year.

Six-week history course to start

A HISTORY course is being launched in Rugeley from next week.

Organised by the Landor Society, it will be held on Fridays for six weeks and begins on September 19 from 7.30 to 9.30pm at the St Paul's Church social room in Lichfield Street.

Dr Anne Tarver will look at records dating back to the 16th century to reveal details about life through the generations.

The course fee is £20. To book, call either 01889 576674 or 01889 586040.

First World War is subject of talk

THE First World War is the subject at a meeting of Bridgtown and District Local History Society next week.

Peter Martin will present 'The Boxer and the Bullet' at the primary school, in North Street, from 7pm on Wednesday, September 17.

Entrance is £1 and Refreshments are available. Non-members are equally welcome.

The beauty spot was taken over by the county council earlier this year.

As part of wider improvements the duck pond is now being cleaned out and new swings have been installed at the children's play area.

Bowlers sought

BLOXWICH Crown Green Bowling Club are looking for experienced players. The club has around 40 members and plays in leagues in Cannock, Lichfield, Walsall and Darlaston. Call 01922 685569.

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

AT the Nato conference in Gwent, the two men eyed each other up, the President of the United States came face-to-face with the Mayor of Newport and the Celtic Manor golf resort.

"I tried not to be overawed by the occasion, so I just shook him by the hand. But I think he could tell I was a little star-struck at being in the company of a man of his standing," said Barack Obama.

Actually, I might have made that bit up. Old Barry actually said everybody should go on holiday to Wales.

Why does that not surprise me. One of the weakest, most indecisive presidents in living memory is a big fan of the land which is famous for its largest population of sheep. Who would have thought it?

Talking about the delights of Wales, it seems a group of workmen in the Castle Vale area of Birmingham seem to have got a bit carried away with their love of the place when they put up a roadworks sign in the Welsh language.

The notice, in Chester Road, near Castle Vale, said: "Fyddai'r ceblau cables a systemau gweitho ar ran grid cenedlaethol yn hoffi i ymddiheurwn am unrhyw anhwylustod yn ystod hyn gwaith hanfodol.

"Unrhyw ymholiadau cysylltwch 0845 400 2 132."

And who could argue with that? I do think it will be lost on the Brummies though. As any Black Country mon will tell you, they think swearing makes you bilingual.

SAD to hear that Benefits Street star Fungi has had his house in James Turner Street, Winson Green, broken into. Unsurprisingly, nothing was stolen, but Fungi was understandably traumatised to find his property violated. He returned home to find his bedclothes changed and his kitchen fumigated.

POLITICIANS who do not believe in climate change should be 'crushed and buried,' according to Sir Paul Nurse, the new president of the British Science Association.

Now to be fair, when it comes to crushing and burying politicians, I'm usually as up for it as the next man, but I do think he is being a little over-selective.

Sounding slightly like a poor man's Bond villain, Sir Paul said: "Politicians can't play with science, they have to listen to scientists." Or else?

He added some climate-change sceptics were 'serial offenders' who he wants to make 'ashamed of the things they say'. Or failing that, dropping them into a large tank of piranhas, no doubt.

On a totally different subject, the West Midlands has just experienced its coldest August since 1993. I'd better prepare for sleeping with the fishes...

Derek Saunders is Star Pa, watched by daughter Linda and Natal Chapman

Selfless George Raybould, aged 12, won the Christmas Star award

Rewards in store for caring heroes

A Star awards scheme has seen unsung heroes across Cannock Chase honoured. SOPHIE RITCHIE reports

THE SELFLESS and talented have been rewarded for their efforts following the launch of Cannock Shopping Centre's Star Awards last year.

The campaign was introduced with the aim of discovering unsung heroes in the local community.

To date, the shopping centre has recognised a Star Grandparent, a Young Sports Star, a Christmas Star, a Star Mum and a Star Pa. But the next award will be for something different. Schoolchildren will be encouraged to create the scariest tale in time for Halloween with the winner being crowned with the Star Story award.

For each category, residents have been encouraged to nominate someone who they thought deserved the title, with each winner being rewarded with an engraved Star Award and a prize, courtesy of the shopping centre.

Nominated

The first person to be honoured was June Dawson who won Cannock Shopping Centre's Star Grandparent.

June, of Chadsmoor, was nominated by her daughter Linzi, and nine-year-old grandson Max. June regularly looks after Max, who has special needs and Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), and she is described as a supportive pillar of strength, not only for her family but also for the local community.

June is involved with fundraising for Snap, Cannock's Special Needs Adventure Playground, as well as a number of local schools.

The shopping centre launched its next award to recognise a talented young sportsperson and received some very impressive nominations.

Star Mum Susie Morris with her husband Jonathan, daughter Alicia, aged two, and Linda Hopkins from the shopping centre

Fifteen-year-old Lizz Bradbury, from Chase Terrace Technology College, was honoured with the Young Sports Star accolade due to her extraordinary natural talent and developing expertise in air rifle shooting.

Shortly before her nomination, Lizz was given the chance to represent her country in future national and international competitions as part of the GB Junior Rifle Squad.

The shopping centre's Christmas Star award was given to inspiring 12-year-old George Raybould for having shown maturity beyond his years by selflessly supporting his family throughout his brother's illness.

George's mother Nikki praised her son for being such a caring and helpful boy, always putting the needs of his family first and also helping out with his sister.

Susie Morris was named Star Mum after being nominated by her husband Jonathan. He said Susie had displayed exceptional strength, courage and determination when their baby daughter Alicia was delivered prematurely by emergency Caesarean and was rushed into the neo-natal unit at Stafford Hospital with several medical complications.

It was subsequently discovered that Alicia had a hole in her heart and has endured several major surgeries.

During this challenging time, Susie's mother-in-law was diagnosed with cancer and sadly passed away but Susie remained a pillar of strength for her husband, daughter and other members of her family.

Derrick Saunders, a 69-year-old from Great Wyrley, was chosen as Cannock's Star Pa, following a nomination from his daughter Linda.

Stoic

Following complications from his life-saving surgery, Derrick went on to develop lymphoedema, a condition which manifested as a severe and painful swelling to his leg, hindering his mobility.

Derrick then underwent a knee replacement operation but, despite a succession of health problems, has remained stoic, upbeat and strong for his family and has provided huge support to Linda and her disabled daughter.

Shopping Centre manager Natal Chapman said: "Sometimes it's the most special or the kindest people within a community who are overlooked, as their efforts can go broadly unrecognised.

"We've had a great response to each of our awards and it was wonderfully heart-warming to read through all the nominations we received for each category.

"We uncovered so many lovely stories about the real-life heroes within our community. I would like to thank everyone who took the time to nominate others and congratulate all our winners."

WEEK IN POLITICS

with Daniel Wainwright

MUCH has been written this week concerning the whys and wherefores of Dudley South MP Chris Kelly's decision to stand down.

He is going to finish the job he was elected to do, rather than seek to renew his term of office.

But the big problem for the Conservatives is still one of timing, as much as it is the loss of yet another MP from the 2010 intake.

When Mr Kelly was chosen as the Prospective Parliamentary Candidate in 2007 there was the possibility of a snap election being called by the then relatively-new Prime Minister Gordon Brown.

Labour's decision not to go to the country until 2010 gave the Tory candidate a good few years to get himself known in the area, get to grips with local matters and build up support not just for the party, but personally. Now there are just eight months to go.

If the Tories are to have any hope of a majority then they have to hold on to every single seat they won in 2010 and gain more.

David Cameron cannot afford to lose Dudley South or let go of Cannock Chase, Halesowen and Rowley Regis, Stafford, Stourbridge or Wolverhampton South West.

Chris Kelly's reasons for going are, he says, personal. Even so, there is a pattern the Conservatives have to address.

As many as nine of the 2010 intake – including Cannock Chase's Aidan Burley – are throwing in the towel. Mr Burley's reasons are also of his own making. Had he not gone to a stag party where the groom wore a Nazi uniform, his career might not have been as brief.

Being the incumbent MP usually brings advantages if the candidate has a record in office they can stand by. The task for untested Labour candidates is now much easier than it was a few months ago. They will have been out on the streets, knocking doors for longer than the Tories brought in to replace sitting MPs.

The 2015 election will be fought on multiple fronts, with UKIP taking votes from all sides. It is hardly the ideal time for rookies.

George Osborne is like a good house guest. When he turns up in the West Midlands he brings a present.

A recent visit to the Black Country saw him promise funding for the long-awaited new super hospital in Smethwick – something that had been drawn up under Labour but wasn't delivered.

And when he went to Screwfix in Cannock he was the one who announced lots of new jobs on the way. It is a remarkable turnaround for a man who was booed at the Olympics because of his 'omnishambles' budget to now be the one able to say to the electorate 'we told you so'.

Fire drama leads to gridlock on the roads

MOTORISTS faced huge delays and businesses were evacuated after two fires caused chaos on main routes through Cannock.

The A34 Walsall Road in Bridgtown was left gridlocked following a blaze at Halfords Auto Centre in Green Lane on Wednesday evening (September 3).

The following morning a lorry carrying scrap vehicles caught fire shortly before 9.45am on the A460 Eastern Way near the Lichfield Road island.

Both sides of the dual carriageway were shut between Poplars tip and the Sainsbury's island. Crews from Cannock, Chase Terrace, Penkridge and the aerial ladder team from Longton fought the blaze in the HGV's trailer.

Staffordshire police assisted with the removal of the lorry to a nearby industrial park where the scrap vehicles were off-loaded at about 3pm. After the debris was cleared, the road was reopened at about 4pm.

A police cordon in place in Bridgtown

The road is closed after the Halfords fire

Firefighters tackle the HGV trailer blaze on Eastern Way, Cannock

Cylinder

The A34 was shut for almost 20 hours between Churchbridge and Delta Way while firefighters tackled the blaze in an overheated acetalyene cylinder at Halfords Auto Centre at Virage Point Business Park.

Three staff members were evacuated at around 4.20pm along with people working at the other local businesses. The road reopened at 11.40am on Thursday.

No-one was injured, but station manager Liam Hickey, of Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service, said: "This had the potential to be a very serious incident."

Business are counting the cost, however. About 100 staff at motor parts firm Line Cross Composites, Green Lane, which supplies Jaguar Land Rover, were among those who waited in surrounding streets for more than five hours before the cordon was lifted.

Shop steward Alf Tarbuck said: "There is an order due to go out to JLR and we couldn't get into the building to get the parts out.

"We had about 100 workers standing in the streets waiting for the police to tell us when it's safe."

About 15 staff from sign firm ID Maintenance, in West Street, were also affected, while Indian restaurant Spices, of Walsall Road, was unable to open its doors. Its owner claims he has lost about £1,000 in trade after bookings for 30 customers were cancelled.

Syed Ali said: "It was a very bad night for me. I also had to pay my staff who turned up for work, but had to be sent home."

10 months to produce a shambles

USERS are now getting used to the roadworks on Horse Fair, Rugeley, though lorries are finding it very difficult to negotiate, and for the life of me I cannot see how an emergency vehicle would get through.

The new parking areas in the centre of the road appear to be useful, but it is highly possible that someone will get injured leaving their cars and crossing the road.

I came through the town recently at about 8 o'clock in the evening and there were cars parked in the centre of the road, not just in the official parking areas but on the rest of the hard standing making the whole centre reservation a car park. It will not be long before cars are damaging the small grassed areas.

I cannot see how this is any improvement, it has taken 10 months to produce this shambles.

Concerns over minor injury unit plans

I AM deeply concerned regarding the CCG proposed downgrading of services at the Cannock Minor Injuries Unit.

Last year I understand that this unit saw over 19,000 people. The Cannock CCG have argued that many of those patients could have been treated at their GP surgery. The counter argument is that patients might have gone to see their GP if they could have been able to make an appointment at a time when they needed to see someone.

The GP service does not have the capacity to see an extra 19,000 people each year. The MIU also keeps 19,000 out of overstretched A&E departments.

The CCG have arranged only three public consultation meetings. The ones for Cannock and Hednesford are to be held during the working day.

Are they suggesting that the people of Cannock and Hednesford do not have jobs so that we can go to the meetings at the convenience of the CCG? Or are they frightened that the public will be so outraged that they need to hold meetings at less accessible times to prevent people from attending?

As well as urgent treatment, the staff deal with sick people and their families at a very stressful time, as quickly as they can, so that people do not have to wait until a GP surgery is open to contact. They deal with sensitive cases when other professional services such as Social Services are unavailable. These things should not be underestimated.

LESLEY HARRISON, Cannock

Increased pressure on A&E is feared

AFTER reading several articles, I am concerned that the coverage of the proposed reduction of hours at Cannock's Minor Injuries Unit has only focussed only on the reduction of hours and has not properly considered the effects of the department not being able to treat illness.

As an NHS worker and a local resident, I am concerned that there is no provision in place for those that work or cannot get an appointment with their GP. I am aware of the GP out of hours service. However they are only available from 6.30pm. What do residents do before these hours?

I have read that local A&E departments are under increased pressure, surely the proposed reduction in services at Cannock will increase the pressure on A&Es and the ambulance service?

I am concerned about the safety of the local residents and that people will be left for up to two weeks, waiting for an appointment with their GP. Surely this is unsafe?

Not thought out properly

CAN anyone explain why the whole of the new single lane in Horse Fair seems to have been designated a cycle track? And has anyone given any thought to drivers who use the centre lay-by having to take their chances crossing to the footpath, or elderly/disabled residents who no longer have a safe lights-controlled crossing? They have to walk almost to Globe Island and back to cross. A lot of things don't seem to have been thought through properly.

New bus service is welcomed

WE welcome the decision to introduce the number 34 bus service to Norton Canes and are particularly pleased it will include the Kingswood Lakeside, and that it will run through the Orbital route into Cannock.

When the old route 32 was axed, the council contacted Arriva with concerns that a large part of our village had become isolated from the public transport network.

We were quite disappointed to read that a parliamentary candidate had taken up the issue without investigating the work we and others had done to reinstate the route.

With new connections to the Orbital Centre and the train station we expect numbers to pick up. The service will begin on September 21. Timetables can be obtained from the parish council office and library.

Priorities that spit in face of electorate

BY the next election George Osborne will have borrowed more in five years than Gordon Brown did in 13. Our national debt is rising a faster rate than in 2010, 2012 or 2013 and yet Ed Balls still goes on about the coalition's so-called spending cuts as if they are the end of the world.

While MPs put us into greater debt to prop up Europe and send borrowed money to dubious foreign regimes, our citizens can only wonder when the next crash is coming.

They will no doubt be reassured that as the vulnerable are denied simple aids, old people's operations are delayed and police downgrade drug crime to a non-emergency response, we in Cannock Chase can afford to train and allocate time to Environmental Health Officers to tour the district in search of people spitting. It is good to see the Labour council has the right priorities.

GRAHAME WIGGIN
Ukip candidate, Cannock Chase

So much for advice of the professionals

HAVING spent many months in the second Francis Inquiry I cannot help wondering if we are headed that way again, listening to the plans of the erstwhile chief executive of UHNS for the future accommodation of patients at Mid Staffs (Stafford Hospital).

I picture patients on under-staffed wards in single bedded bays mostly unobserved injuring themselves in trying to get up unassisted, requiring avoidable further treatment at best and at worst the unthinkable.

So much for the advice of the 'professionals'.

Parents in protest at drinks ban by school

PUPILS have been banned from taking in their own juice drinks into school. Parents have been told to pay for the school's juice instead.

Furious parents were told by letter at the start of term that children at Chadsmoor Junior School would have to pay 20p a day for diluted juice or milk.

Some have branded the decision a 'disgrace' and held a protest outside the school gates on Burns Street.

The school, for seven-to-11-year-olds, sent a letter saying: "No drinks should be included in lunch boxes. Milk or diluted orange or blackcurrant Calypso Aqua Juice are available at a cost of 20p."

Angry mothers also organised a lunchtime walkout after the letter dictated restrictions on packed lunches, despite pizza and chocolate cake being available on the hot dinner menu.

Julie Ball leads the protest among the school's parents

Chadsmoor Junior – Juice ban

Sarah Wyles – Petition

Fizzy

Sarah Wyles, a 31-year-old mother-of-three, who organised the walkout and petition, said: "I understand if they wanted to ban fizzy drinks, but why juice?"

Mrs Wyles has received the support of more than 130 parent signatures on the online petition.

It is estimated that the added cost of paying for juice to parents with just one child at the school would be £40 per year.

The letter to parents about packed lunches also states that sweets, chocolate covered or iced cakes and biscuits, chocolate bars, fried crisps, sausage rolls, corned meat or pies are also not allowed.

However, the school's hot menu includes cheese burgers, iced finger cakes, chocolate muffins, pizza and sausages.

Headteacher Karen Burns said: "Spillages of sticky substances in places where packed lunches are stored attracts insects. The new policy ensures that milk and juice drinks are confined to the dining area.

"No food has been confiscated from children, we're simply asking parents that they choose the healthy option, and are offering children a healthy alternative if they wish.

"We wrote to parents at the end of last term to explain what we were doing in September and why it was so important."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Newlywed's bride and joy over weight loss

But hairdresser Becky Hames from Cannock couldn't bring herself to go shopping for her big day because of her weight.

It prompted the 25-year-old to lose seven stones over the course of 18 months before she walked down the aisle.

Becky married her teenage sweetheart Stephen on August 22 after slimming from 17st 4lbs to 10st 3lbs.

The couple were together for six years before they tied the knot.

Becky said: "We had been engaged a year and had set a date but I couldn't bring myself to try on any dresses because I just felt so awful about my weight. One day a leaflet for Slimming World came through the door and I decided I had to try it."

Chocolate

Before attending weight loss classes run by Gill Fletcher at the Aquarius Ballroom in Hednesford with her sister and sister-in-law, Mrs Hames would feast on four McDonalds meals a week. She would also eat bags of crisps and chocolate bars every day.

She swapped junk food for fresh fruit and vegetables, and started making all her own meals from scratch including spaghetti bolognese, chicken and fish.

Becky said: "I didn't set a target, I just wanted to go and see what I could do. That's the great thing about Slimming World, there is no pressure. Now I am just three pounds off my personal ideal weight and have gone from a size 24 to a size 12."

The bride, formerly Becky Lees, from Longford, wore a size 12 dress on her wedding day and added: "It even had to be taken in, I was beyond chuffed. I felt amazing, I had never experienced feeling good in clothes and the first time I ever wore a dress was for my hen party.

"When I saw the wedding picture I knew all the hard work was worth it. I still can't believe it is me."

Happier

Husband, Stephen, aged 27 couldn't be happier for his wife and Becky said: "He always said he loved me whatever size but I had to do this for me.

"He has lost over three stone himself simply by the food choices we have made at home so it is a journey we did together. He is very proud of me."

The newlyweds who married at Moor Hall in Sutton Coldfield will honeymoon in Orlando, Florida later this month.

Becky said: "To feel confident in a swimsuit will feel amazing and I am so happy to be able to shop anywhere and be able to choose sale items.

"I visited Florida a few years ago and was too big for some of the rides, now I will be able to go on all of them."

Charity challenge proves a snip

Katie before losing her locks for charity

Katie after with hairdresser JME Eglington

A SCHOOLGIRL was the mane attraction at a charity challenge at St Andrew's Church in Great Wyrley.

Katie Edwards, aged eight, had her long hair cut short to help the Little Princess Trust. The charity uses hair to make wigs for children undergoing chemotherapy treatment, as well as collecting any sponsorship money raised.

The Cheslyn Hay Primary School youngster decided to help the cause after reading about it in a magazine. She hopes to raise up to £500 as well as donating her locks.

Charity manager Monica Glass said: "Everyone at the Little Princess Trust is very grateful to Katie for her donation of hair. It will form part of a real-hair wig for a poorly child. It is amazing that someone so young has chosen to do so much for others."

Reduction in grass fires

THE number of grass and bin fires across Staffordshire has more than halved in the last three years.

Figures show there were 1,906 fires from April 1 to August 31, 2011. That figure dropped to 1,281 in 2013 and fell even further to 866 during the same period this year.

Bosses at Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service say the drop is down to the successful Flames Aren't Games campaign, which is aimed at reducing fires and anti-social behaviour.

Head of risk reduction at the fire service, Glynn Luznyj, said: "This type of incident can sometimes seem like a bit of fun to young people but we have worked very hard to highlight the potential risks they can pose to members of the public, the firefighters and to the culprits themselves.

"We will continue to work closely with our partners, to educate and inform young people about the consequences of this type of anti-social behaviour so that we can build upon our success year on year."

In July, more than 30 firefighters helped put out a huge blaze in a straw field near Cannock. The fire took hold in a field bordering West Chadsmoor and Huntington.

Crews battled the flames for more than an hour.

A CANNOCK bar is to stage a sports-themed fancy dress disco and auction in memory of a schoolboy who died of meningitis.

The event at Bar Sport, will be held to remember talented footballer Thomas Smith, of Hednesford, next Friday, September 19. Thomas, a former Kingsmead School pupil, died on his 13th birthday in May last year while on a family holiday in Wales. His aunt, Joy Smith, has organised the event to raise money for the Thomas Smith Trust Fund, which helps meningitis charities.

It will take place between 7pm and 2am in the Premier Suite at the High Green bar.

Around 250 tickets are available. They cost £5 for adults and £3 for children and are available on 07900 431838.

New bus service launched

A NEW bus service is to be launched in Norton Canes – after residents claimed the axing of another service had left them stranded.

The number 32 bus, a half-hourly service which linked Cannock and Brownhills via Norton Canes, was scrapped by operators Arriva, who claimed not enough people used it.

Now the company has announced it is looking to start a number 34 service. It would begin on September 21 subject to approval from the Traffic Commissioner.

Arriva says the new route will improve links throughout Hednesford, Heath Hayes and Norton Canes.

It will run from 6.45am to 6.45pm, Monday to Saturday, running from Cannock Bus Station, past the train station, the Orbital Retail Park, Kingswood Lakeside and Norton Canes, taking in Norton Green Lane and Walsall Road, Jerome Road and Norton Square before heading through Heath Hayes and Hednesford town centre.

Arriva spokesman Keith Myatt said: "This meets requests from residents in the Heath Hayes and Norton Canes areas for links with Hednesford and the Orbital Centre and it offers the opportunity for people that work at Kingswood Lakeside to get to and from businesses on those sites."

Stephen's Santa snap to raise charity cash

A FESTIVE picture of inspirational teenager Stephen Sutton is being transformed into a Christmas card to help raise funds for the charity he supported.

Stephen's courage in the face of terminal cancer inspired the nation and saw more than £4 million raised for the Teenage Cancer Trust just before he passed away in May at the age of 19.

Now a picture of him taken with Santa at the Drill Inn, Burntwood, last December, is being used on hundreds of Christmas cards.

It was snapped by landlord Tony Tully as the former Chase Terrace Technology College student visited to support the pub's fundraising efforts.

Spirit

Mr Tully says the proceeds raised will go towards the trust. He and his wife Gill have already raised more than £6,000 by holding a festival last summer and another recent live music event raised more than £2,000.

Mr Tully said they got to know Stephen well last year and wanted to keep his spirit alive.

He said: "We built a grotto in our field last year and we did a raffle for the Teenage Cancer Trust. Stephen was there and he ended up sitting on Santa's lap. When I was on holiday this year I got talking about him and managed to find the photo, then we came up with the idea of putting it onto Christmas cards.

"We will probably make up to 1,000 and sell them to raise more money and to keep Stephen's name alive."

The cost of the cards is yet to be decided, but they will be available to buy from the pub. At a fundraiser in the pub's grounds last month, around 500 people attended and a group of brave volunteers raised more than £200 by taking on the ice bucket challenge.

Live acts at the festival included Pollen, a young band which includes Stephen's former schoolmates Will Schmidt and Corey Furnival. Other acts included TFI The 90s – who specialise in Britpop anthems – and Tyler John performing as Gary Barlow.

The teenager was honoured with an MBE in this year's Queen's Birthday Honours, just weeks after losing his fight against cancer. He accepted the honour before his death on May 14.

Pianist the key to live production

Rugeley Musical Theatre Company are appealing for a pianist to make their show go with a swing

The Rugeley Musical Theatre Company needs a keyboard player for its pantomime Sherlock Holmes and the Hounds of Basketcases.

The company has had live music at its productions for more than 60 years, but is currently without a piano player.

Committee member Emily Appleby said: "We are the kind of society that thinks live music is important."

The show is due to run at the Rose Theatre, Taylors Lane, Rugeley, from November 12 to 15. The keyboard player is also needed for the rehearsals, which take place at the theatre from 8-10pm on Tuesdays.

Groups in line for cashpot

Carers Association Southern Staffordshire, South Staffs Acrobatics and Pegasus Wingfoot Shotokan Karate Club have been shortlisted for grants from Lloyds Bank Community Fund, along with Stafford charity A Child of Mine. They are among 7,000 community groups nominated nationwide, of which 1,400 made the final shortlist.

Until October 10, the public can vote online, by SMS text message, in any branch, and, for the first time, using Twitter. The number of votes cast will determine how funds are allocated, from £3,000 down to £500.

To vote online, visit www.lloydsbank.com/communityfund

The award for CASS would provide therapeutic musical activities for the benefit of carers and those with dementia.

South Staffs Acrobatics Club needs to replace outdated vaulting equipment, while the karate club wants to expand with additional training sessions.

A Child Of Mine supports families following the death of a child and would be looking to provide local families with vital information packs.

Mother and daughter on track for new cafe

A FORMER railway station has been given a new lease of life thanks to a mother and daughter team of bakers from Cheslyn Hay.

The old Smestow railway station, along the former Great Western railway line in Wolverhampton, is being transformed into a cupcake cafe which will be known as Cupcake Lane.

Michelle Butler, aged 37, and her mum Lorraine Lane, 56, are behind the new business.

"My mum loves to go for afternoon tea and used to walk past the old building. She told me what a lovely building it was, but when I saw it, it was raining and it did look a bit neglected," said Michelle. The pair took over the lease in March.

Dream

Michelle, a former support worker, said: "It's always been our dream to open a cafe."

She said the pair had spent thousands of pounds redecorating the building and did the interior design themselves to create a family-friendly environment.

"There are swings outside and a bistro area, somewhere teenagers can go," she said.

The pair have spent six months hoarding, said Michelle, collecting ideas from everywhere they could.

"We love quaint, little tea rooms," she said. "It's a step back in time. We've tried to keep the feeling of the old Great Western Railway to recreate that feeling from the past. There's an old 1925 photograph that was our inspiration. I think we've done the building proud."

The station closed in 1965 and lay empty until being restored by Wolverhampton Borough Council in 1984.

The site also has a transport museum and an office used by park rangers, created in a £600,000 redevelopment.

Michelle and Lorraine will run the cafe themselves and offer a selection of cupcakes including chocolate orange and Turkish delight. They will also offer cake decorating classes and hope to host birthday parties in the future.

The cafe will be unveiled by Councillor Wendy Thompson at midday on September 21 and the first 100 people will get a free cupcake.

The transport museum, usually closed on Sundays, will also open.

Items put to use after V festival clean-up

SI Cannock & District

FOR the last few years a collection of tents, chairs, beds, sleeping bags and unopened food has been organised by Rotary International at Weston Park in the two days following the V Festival.

This year, as in previous years, Soroptimist International of Cannock & District was involved.

Festival attendees leave so much behind which, if it can be collected, can be used by people at home and overseas. No matter how many volunteers go along they are never able to collect all of the items left behind.

Soroptimists from SI Cannock & District were joined by local Councillor Hyra Sutton and parliamentary candidate Amanda Milling to help with the grand 'clear-up' at Weston Park.

Wearing wellies and other appropriate clothing, they set to work dismantling and re-packing tents, rolling up air beds, collecting chairs, buckets, bowls, sleeping bags and unopened tinned food – and anything else in good condition that might be of use to others.

The tents were all taken to the International Aid trucks; they will be used in disaster areas around the world.

All other items collected will be used by Pathway, the local women's refuge and by Staffordshire Women's Aid – in fact, many items have already been put to good use by local women who are in need.

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the experience and know the goods will be put to excellent use by those who need them.

Silent tribute paid to founder member

Cannock Chase Ladies Probus

CHAIRMAN Pat Stanley welcomed everyone to the monthly August Luncheon meeting at The Barns and called for a minutes silence in memory of Margaret Young.

Margaret was a popular, founder club member, having joined in 1987. She will be sadly missed.

Mrs Stanley also informed the ladies that Margaret Millar is still poorly in the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham. Cards had been sent to her from her friends and from the club. Margaret is also very missed.

The chairman introduced and welcomed three new members, Linda Hopkins, Val Burden and Pamela Prytherch. She also wished a happy September birthday to Gloria Knight. Sheila Jones said Grace after which the ladies enjoyed their luncheon.

After the Loyal Toast Mrs Stanley welcomed speaker Audrey Hall, whose theme was 'Taking Shirley Valentine to Greece'.

She was very entertaining. Alice Mortlock gave the Vote of Thanks and presented a donation to Mrs Hall for St Giles.

Social secretary Elizabeth Stephenson said there were still seats available on the coach to Buxton, Warwick, Bridgnorth and Chatsworth.

Chasetown WI

AUGUST'S meeting was a very light-hearted but informative one.

President Joyce Taylor talked about the forthcoming outings which had been arranged, both by Chasetown WI and Staffordshire Federation.

Of particular interest were the outings to Cheshire Oaks and Bicester shopping villages.

Speaker for the evening was Caz Bailey, who entertained with her talk 'Handcuffs to Hot Glass' with humorous stories from her days as a police officer and from her time at college, when she learned all about the art of glassmaking. The addition of the odd joke made it light and enjoyable.

The evening continued with the usual social time when tea, coffee and homemade cakes were served.

The group meets every third Wednesday at the Old Mining College, Chasetown.

HS2 case to be argued

COUNCIL bosses from Staffordshire will argue their case against HS2 before a parliamentary committee next month.

Staffordshire County Council will appear before the HS2 Select Committee on October 14 as one of more than 2,000 petitioners against the £50bn project.

It will argue that acres of vital green space will be lost.

The committee will listen to groups and organisations from across the country in the coming months.

Fundraising appeal for horse statue launched

A £250,000 fundraising appeal has been launched with the aim of getting a life-size bronze statue of a horse placed at the National Memorial Arboretum

The Free Spirit Horse Memorial project has been launched by Tracy Francis, who runs Gartmore Riding School, in Hammerwich, and aims to provide a tribute to the thousands of horses that have served mankind in times of conflict and work.

She said it would also provide recognition for the horse's qualities of companionship and loyalty.

Wiltshire-based artist Georgie Welch has drawn up the design for the statue. It would be mounted on a stone plinth which will hold a time capsule containing quotations honouring the horse from donors.

An art competition will be launched in primary and secondary schools to raise awareness of the project. It is hoped the funds can be raised by 2018.

Ms Francis said: "Horses make a huge difference to people's lives through work, rehabilitation and disabled and the joy they provide in pleasure and sporting events.

"They have nothing at the National Memorial Arboretum for the horse and I wanted to do something. We are only just launching the appeal and are asking people to make donations in the project."

Plea on early diagnosis

CHASE MP Aidan Burley has called for improvements to be made to early cancer diagnosis.

Figures show the number in Cannock Chase living for more than a year after being told they had the disease is 67, lower than the national average.

Mr Burley said: "The one-year cancer survival rates will highlight areas where improvements need to be made. I have written to Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group asking what steps they are taking to encourage earlier diagnosis."

50s themed night aids cancer charity

TWO Rugeley businesswomen staged a successful breast cancer charity fundraiser.

Sally Sandel and Natalie Pettitt own PS I Love You, a luxury lingerie and swimwear boutique in Rugeley and specialise in mastectomy and nursing bras. They organised a 1950s themed night at the the town's Lea Hall Social Club in Sandy Lane.

More 150 people attended last Saturday (September 6) . The night included an Elvis Presley act, live band and DJ and a raffle. Food on offer was American-diner style food, while fancy dress was encouraged and many people dressed up in colourful 1950s outfits.

The organisers were delighted with the turnout. Sally said: "It is great to see everyone having fun and helping raise money for such a good cause. We hope to raise over £300 after deducting all expenses and costs."

For more information about the charity, visit www.coppafeel.org

Top rating pledge for all schools in county

EDUCATION bosses say they want every school in Staffordshire to be rated as either good or outstanding in the wake of a critical Ofsted report.

They have vowed to strengthen their grip on schools and a new board of headteachers is being formed to guide improvements across the county.

The group, called Shield (Staffordshire Heads Improving Education Leadership and Delivery) will meet regularly. And bosses insist every school can have a top rating in the coming years.

The council will also launch reviews and 'health checks' to ensure schools are reaching standards.

by Adam Burling

Visited

A letter is being sent out laying out areas for improvement and what is expected. Half of the 18 primary schools which Ofsted visited earlier this year were found to not be providing a good education.

And the council was accused of not knowing its schools as well as it used to. The council has always insisted that the inspections were 'not representative' of the county as a whole.

Education chief Councillor Ben Adams said: "In the long term we expect that Shield will help us achieve our aim of having every child in Staffordshire attending a school rated 'good' or 'outstanding', see children perform better in the classroom and leave school with the best possible start in life.

Three of the nine schools inspected were put into special measures and six were judged to need improvement.

The inspections in June were to establish why children in some parts of the country have a much lower chance of attending a good or better school than their peers in other similar areas.

The council insists 74 per cent of more than 100 schools inspected over the last year were good – including Hob Hill Methodist and Hayes Meadow primaries in Rugeley – or outstanding.

Reward for witness as flytip appeal rejected

A WITNESS who reported a Brereton resident for flytipping will receive a £100 reward after an appeal against an offender's prosecution was thrown out.

Paul Bishop had been fined earlier this year for allowing his vehicle to be used for flytipping. An appeal against that decision was dismissed at Stafford Crown Court.

It means the anonymous witness becomes the first recipient of Cannock Chase Council's reward, introduced as an incentive to help crack down on illegal dumping.

In June, 43-year-old Bishop, of Wood View, was fined £500 and ordered to pay £1,270 costs by Cannock magistrates after two armchairs were dumped in Slitting Mill Lane, Rugeley, from a van he owns.

The witness passed the van's registration to Cannock Chase Council and the owner – Bishop – was traced and prosecuted.

Guilty

Bishop confirmed he was in the area with the van around the time but denied the offence. Although it was not possible to identify any of the individuals responsible, magistrates found him guilty – a registered vehicle keeper can be prosecuted if their vehicle is involved in flytipping.

An appeal was heard and dismissed at Stafford Crown Court on September 4. The original sentence stands in full and Bishop must pay a further £400 in appeal costs.

Councillor Carl Bennett, Cannock Chase Council Environment Portfolio Leader, said: "We're delighted to pay the first £100 reward to someone whose evidence has led to a successful prosecution for flytipping.

"We are determined to stamp out flytipping but we do need the public's help."

To report flytipping, contact Cannock Chase Council on 01543 462621 with the date and time, the model, make, registration number and colour of any vehicle used and a description of the offenders.

Vets have Va-Va-Voom

Practice manager Rachel Duncan and senior partner Hamish Duncan

STAFF from a Great Wyrley veterinary practice will race against the clock in a charity challenge later this month.

The team, from 387 Veterinary Centre in Walsall Road, will compete in the Vet Charity Challenge in aid of animal charities. They will put their physical endurance and mental agility to the test on Saturday, September 27 in Wiltshire. Last year, the team, 387 Va-Va-Voom, finished 15th from 55 teams.

They also hope to beat their 2013 fundraising total of £1,096. So far, £600 has been pledged in sponsorship.

To sponsor the team visit www.virginmoneygiving.com/387vetcentre or call in to practice.

Subway branch opens

A NEW Subway store was opening in Rugeley this week – creating 11 jobs. The branch of the sandwich chain was opening yesterday (Wednesday) on the A51 Western Springs Road in Rugeley. It is the fourth to open in the town and will be located next to Burger King.

Pub cuts prices for a day

A CANNOCK pub will back a nationwide campaign by cutting its prices for a day. The Linford Arms is backing a national Tax Equality Day, aimed at highlighting the benefit of a VAT reduction in the hospitality industry. All prices at the High Green pub will be cut by 7.5 per cent on Wednesday, September 24.

Pub manager Andy Johnston said: "We are proud to support the campaign to reduce the level of VAT within the pub industry. We are keen to highlight the amount customers would save if VAT in pubs was lowered."

Jack's back in record books with pogo feat

EXTREME fundraiser Jack Sexty has bounced into the record books for a third time this year. The 24-year-old recorded the fastest mile on a pogo stick.

Jack, a Masters student from Penkridge, has already made it into the Guinness Book of Records for the longest distance pogoed in 24 hours and the fastest marathon on a pogo stick.

The feat added £1,000 to the total he has has already donated to Alzheimer's Research UK.

Jack's latest attempt came in Helsingborg, Sweden at the grand finals of the showpiece Pogopalooza event.

The annual world championships are organised by international governing body Xpogo. It saw him crack the record in 10 minutes and two seconds, shaving more than two minutes off the previous record time.

Jack Sexty crosses the line

Cyclist

Jack has become known as 'Mr Pogo' after completing the Greater Manchester Marathon on a pogo stick in 16hrs 24minutes. For his latest bid, he beat the previous record despite a cyclist riding into his path just 300 metres from the finish line.

The attempt was sanctioned and verified by Xpogo on behalf of Guinness World Records.

Jack, who studies journalism at Staffordshire University, said: "Once again I've been fundraising for both Alzheimer's Research UK and the Royal Manchester Children's Hospital.

"Before April I'd never done anything like this before and now I'm a multiple pogo record holder. It's mad!

"Pogoing the mile was a lot more strenuous than the marathon. The marathon was all about surviving the distance, while this was all about speed and hitting that target."

Jodie Vaughan, community fundraising manager at Alzheimer's Research UK, said: "Jack is a fantastic supporter of Alzheimer's Research UK and has gone to great lengths to raise vital funds for the charity's pioneering dementia research.

"We're so proud of Jack for breaking yet another pogo record while raising funds for Alzheimer's Research UK.

"We rely on public donations and it's thanks to the commitment of people like Jack that we're able to continue our crucial work."

Pupils warned of distractions close to roads

PUPILS are being urged to put their phones and tablets away as they walk to school as part of a new initiative.

Staffordshire County Council is targeting Year Seven students in the 'ditch the distractions' campaign. They say many accidents involving children happen while they are distracted.

The Staffordshire Safer Roads Partnership, which is behind the campaign, will be visiting schools to talk to pupils.

Twenty schools from across Staffordshire will be taking part, displaying posters and banners. These include Hagley Park Academy in Rugeley and Kingsmead School in Hednesford. The www.ditchthedistraction-staffs.info website features advice and a game to help highlight the dangers of what can happen when young people are distracted when near the roads.

Councillor Mark Deaville, cabinet support member for highways, said: "In all the excitement about starting high school, many pupils forget about the dangers near roads – texting, using social media, playing games on their smartphones or listening to music.

"When combined with an unfamiliar route to a new school this can be a dangerous mix."

Chancellor reveals jobs boost in visit

Chancellor George Osborne with staff during a visit to Screwfix, in Walkmill Lane, Cannock

CHANCELLOR George Osborne revealed on a visit to Cannock that 900 jobs would be created, saying the West Midlands was 'at the heart' of the economic recovery.

Mr Osborne visited hardware and DIY retailer Screwfix, which is opening 50 new branches next year. He said the West Midlands was vital to an economy built on manufacturing and exports, which relies less on banking and London.

"The West Midlands is right at the heart of the British economy, both literally and in terms of its greatest strengths," he said.

"Manufacturing and logistics, transport – I see the West Midlands as central.

"We have to fix what went wrong in the economy. All our bets as a country were based on the city of London. Private sector employment fell in the West Midlands. I'm determined to reverse that and you are seeing growth in jobs."

Mr Osborne is touring British businesses as they announce measures to create jobs, help people into work, increase exports or make the UK a leader in science and innovation.

The Screwfix store in Walkmill Lane employs 20 staff and opened seven years ago.

Mr Osborne said: "It's fantastic to be at one of the most successful sites and hear news that they're creating all these new jobs.

"The people shopping here are buying the tools to build the British economy. For every new job at a Screwfix store there are many more at building sites and in the economy generally."

Funding for road link to be confirmed

GOVERNMENT ministers have revealed funding for a major link road connecting the M54, M6 and M6 Toll motorways is set to be confirmed by Christmas.

Chancellor George Osborne has vowed the road will go ahead despite having previously been shelved. Roads minister John Hayes has said the announcement will come following the autumn statement on December 3.

At Screwfix in Cannock, Mr Osborne said the road would attract businesses to the West Midlands and that he wanted to repeat the success of Jaguar Land Rover's £500 million engine plant, which has come to Wolverhampton because of public funding for a £36.7m slip road from the M54 to the i54 business park.

By Jon Pritchard

Pledged

The link road is expected to go from the M54 between Junctions one and two, past Featherstone and to the M6 Junction 11 near Cannock.

The scheme was originally drawn up in 2003 and £112m of funding was pledged by Macquarie Infrastructure Group, the M6 Toll operator, for a range of road improvements. Mr Osborne said the investment had to go ahead: "We are determined to get the infrastructure in.

"And if you get the infrastructure in you get the businesses in and they create jobs," he said.

"We are absolutely committed to it. The scheme will go ahead."

Mr Osborne also revealed his confidence in his party's new candidates. Nine Tory MPs elected in 2010 will stand down after just one term – including Cannock Chase's Aidan Burley.

Mr Osborne said: "We're determined to build on the work Aidan did to save Cannock Hospital."

Aspire, Believe, Achieve!

Teaching and Learning is at the heart of everything we do at Staffordshire University Academy achieved through the delivery of inspiring teaching.

We aim to nurture all students to ensure they are happy and confident learners. Through an environment that provides inclusive learning opportunities for all; they can achieve their personal best and aspire to be successful in the future.

We believe in high standards and high aspirations for all in our Academy. Successful learning is about partnership and we work to achieve this through excellent communication between the Academy, parents, Governors and the community and an insistence on the highest standards of behaviour from all.

The Academy moved into a new state of the art building in November 2013 providing our students with high class resources and learning experiences. Many of the latest technologies for education are used. Students have access to several IT suites, an iMac suite, Green Screen Studio and Radio Station. Many classrooms also have laptop computers and technology to support learning. We want students to be engaged with the curriculum in a creative and innovative way, but not forgetting about the core values of education, ensuring students are equipped with skills necessary in today's modern world.

The Academy embeds in students the fundamental values of democracy, freedom, a wider understanding of different faiths and beliefs; celebrating diversity. Students develop an understanding of the clear link between rights and responsibilities and know the difference between right and wrong. Students learn to be reflective and are taught the importance of respect and tolerance for others. Young adults leaving SUA will contribute positively to the local community and be fully prepared for life in modern Britain.

The Academy is an 11 – 18 school and has a Sixth Form that offers A Level and Vocational courses. The Sixth Form has grown considerably over recent years and last year all students passed their Level 3 (A Level and BTEC) courses. Nearly 70% of our students progressed onto higher education, securing places at Russell Group Universities and others, including places at our sponsor university Staffordshire University. Our work with our sponsor provides our students with opportunities to work with specialists in their field. For example, some of our Year 8 students are taking part in a comprehensive heart research study.

We are much more than a shiny new building; we care about the progress and education of all of our students. We would love to see you at our Open Evening and show you all of the fabulous opportunities our Academy has to offer. There will be opportunities to tour our building and speak to staff and students about our Academy.

The twins seen as young girls during the 1920s

The twins are seen as toddlers with their mother just after the end of the First World War

THEY have been inseparable since birth. Identical twins Joan and Jessie Baker went to the same schools, had the same jobs and have lived together for nearly all of their lives.

MEMORY LANE

By Lisa O'Brien

The 96-year-olds were born in Wolverhampton Road, Pelsall, in 1918 a few months before the end of the First World War, with Joan 20 minutes older than her sister.

They have spent many of the years since then living and working together and although they now live apart – all be it round the corner from each other – they still meet up each day to enjoy dinner together.

The sisters, who attended Pelsall Infants School and School Lane secondary school in the village, say they have fond memories of growing up.

"Whatever I did, she did and whatever she did, I did," Jessie said.

"We have always been together. We just grew part of one another.

"We were always a family together, we used to go to the seaside in Wales. Mum was a children's nurse and dad was a miner."

They lived in Wolverhampton Road, Pelsall until they were 21, before moving to another home on the same street with their parents. After their mother Alice died in 1970, following the death of their father Joseph, they both moved into a flat in Charles Crescent, Pelsall.

It was six years ago when they made the move to become neighbours rather than housemates after moving to separate flats on the same street in Rushall before Jessie moved to another home around the corner two years ago.

The pair first worked together at a leather factory in Frederick Street, Walsall, making purses, cases and belts. They then left to work at a munitions factory in Darlaston were they were involved in finishing and polishing shells during the Second World War. Joan said: "We both worked at Darlaston Naval Shells. Jess used to have the shells and put a screw in the top. I used to grease the bottom and put a cap on."

Although they spent short periods apart while Joan became a shop worker and Jessie took up an office role, the sisters worked together again as shop assistants at Hetherington Chemists, in High Street, Pelsall.

Joan spent 25 years of her life there, while Jessie worked there for 15 years.

Away from the world of work the twins, who have never married or had children, are both keen knitters and have even won prizes together for their gardening abilities.

They helped to create a communal garden outside their home four years ago which won them first prize in a competition.

They were nominated for a Walsall Housing Group Community Spirit award by a neighbour who felt they deserved recognition.

Judges agreed and awarded the sisters first place in the Community Garden Champion category of the Community Spirit awards.

Visit paves way for town regeneration

A VISIT by an expert in regeneration has sparked moves for long-term plans for growth in Hednesford. Community leaders are now working towards a two, five and ten-year plan for the town.

It follows a visit by Chris Wade, chief executive of the Lottery-funded and Government-backed Towns Alive initiative.

After a day visiting with representatives from Hednesford Town Council and The Heart of Hednesford Restoration Project (HoHRP), Mr Wade said there were excellent building blocks in place to act as a springboard to future prosperity.

He also praised the "hidden gems" of independent traders and hailed the advent of new housing as a positive step to improve business.

But Mr Wade also advised that better signage was needed in the town centre and recommended a more concerted marketing campaign.

Councillor Brian Gamble, Bev Yates, Hednesford Traders Association chairman, Chris Wade, of Towns Alive, David Wisehall, Heart of Hednesford chairman and Doris Grice, Hednesford Town Council chairman

Income

Another area identified as key to development was investigating relevant possible income streams from available Government funding.

"I can see lots of potential with Hednesford" said Mr Wade. "There's already been a significant investment in redevelopment and there's a lot that Hednesford can benefit from.

"I'm hoping that with the support of Towns Alive, we can help to transform Hednesford into a thriving market town once more."

Mr Wade was given a tour of Market Street, the Museum of Cannock Chase and Victoria Shopping Park before presenting his recommendations to an invited audience of traders, business owners and community leaders at Pye Green Community Centre.

Councillor Brian Gamble said all those involved were delighted to welcome Mr Wade and excited at the prospect of moving forward on some of the areas identified.

He said: "This has been a very positive experience and we are determined to move forward with optimism and determination. We are taking a long term view and interested groups are working together.

"We are indebted to Chris and Towns Alive for their input; they have made some very valid points which can be addressed.

"We need to ensure we are making the most of every opportunity to draw more people into our town."

At a meeting at the Ex Servicemen's Club in Anglesey Street, at 6pm on October 2, representatives from HoHRP, traders and The Friends of Hednesford Park will discuss the next steps and look for volunteers to get involved.

Youngsters enjoy craft experience

A GROUP of young people built a willow trellis fence in Hednesford Park over the summer holiday as part of their National Citizen Service experience.

The work was part of an activity plan that is being rolled out as part of the Heritage Lottery funded redevelopment of the park.

The course was provided by David Knowles from The Forest of Mercia.

Lynn Evans, Hednesford Park community and education officer, said: "The willow trellis fence will provide a natural hedge that will be harvested every year to provide future community willow weaving courses."

For more information on for Hednesford Park – including volunteering opportunities – call 07896 239717 or email lynnevans@cannockchasedc.gov.uk

Festive gifts at church fair

A CRAFT fair next month will raise money for a Hednesford church.

It takes place at St Peter's Church Hall, Church Hill, from 10am to 2pm on Saturday, October 25 and will feature a variety of local crafts and gifts in time for Christmas.

To book a stall, at a cost of £5, call Carole Howard on 01543 423522.

FAMILY ORIENTATED SCHOOL WITH EXCELLENT ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

Brownhills School prides itself on being a very family orientated school and values the benefits of being a smaller school where every child can receive a first class education alongside excellent pastoral care. With 700 students, it is half the size of most Walsall Schools and offers high quality specialist subject teaching within a well resourced and cared for environment. Every child is noticed. Every child is valued and every child achieves. More importantly we are a very happy and safe school.

The school has a strong focus on academic achievement with excellence in the areas of English, Maths and Science in particular. We invest heavily in recruiting and developing the best specialist staff in all subjects and have increased staffing in the core areas of English, Maths and Science to enable small class sizes. The outstanding English department offer a wide range of courses at all levels. In Science we are one of the few state schools to offer separate Science in Biology, Chemistry and Physics for the more able students who may want careers in medicine, pharmacy, or as a vet. In Maths higher grades are increasing as a result of very small groups, 1 to 1 tuition, additional after school and holiday classes.

The academic excellence is complemented by a thriving and dynamic creative arts programme. Brownhills School may be small but it has a big voice reflected by its superb choir VIP-Voices in Partnership which is the largest and best state school choir in Walsall. The choir performed at the opening of two prestigious national events recently in opening the School Games in Sheffield and the Youth Sports Trust Conference in Telford. Currently we remain the only school in Walsall to provide free instrumental lessons in music because we believe that every child should have the opportunity to learn to play an instrument.

Similarly the performing arts are vibrant with legendary musical productions such as Oliver and Grease showing to large audiences. The school has an enviable reputation of producing West End standard performances and developing the skills of students, several of whom have now gone on to train for a career in the industry. Talent is also developed through the BTEC programme with students planning, producing and marketing the productions to develop their leadership, business and entrepreneurial skills.

As a sports college, Brownhills School provides a wide range of sporting activities during and after the school day. These are offered in traditional sports such as football, netball, badminton, cricket and rounders. However we also offer Mountain biking, Australian Rules football, Ultimate Frisbee, Handball and Futsal to name but a few interesting and fun activities. There is something to suit everyone and a leadership development programme runs alongside the participation part so that our students learn the skills of coaching and leading. Students have the opportunity to work in local primary schools and to mentor younger pupils.

The school is situated on the Walsall-Staffordshire border and is handily placed for main bus routes, car journeys and walking to school. Subsidised coaches are offered by the school and provided by the reputable and high quality Wicksons Coaches. These have various pick up points and routes are negotiated each year to cater for incoming students. Brownhills School is very fortunate to be set in rural countryside adjacent to the A5 with over 7 acres of playing fields. We give a warm welcome to visitors to the school and hope you can join us at our Open Evening on Wednesday 17th September 6-9 pm and the Open Mornings on Friday 19th September and Tuesday 7th October 9.15-10.30am.

Horn dancers keep up ancient tradition

The Abbots Bromley Horn Dance enters Main street as part of the annual 10-mile trek around village streets

VILLAGERS have kept up a tradition dating back almost 800 years.

People took to the streets of Abbots Bromley to watch the annual Horn Dance on Monday.

After collecting the horns from St Nicholas Church in the morning, the dancers performed routines to music provided by a melodeon player throughout the village and its surrounding farms and pubs.

Abbots Bromley Parish Council clerk Sarah Meads, said: "The horn dance lasts for about 12 hours. It's a really old tradition in the village and has been going on since 1226.

"It's a big deal in the village. Lots of people come out to watch and people come from as far away as America to see the dancing."

Performed

The group of horn dancers includes six Deer-Men, a Fool, Hobby Horse, Bowman and a Maid Marian. They walk 10 miles around the village performing for spectators. The horn dance was first performed in Abbots Bromley at the Barthelmy Fair in August 1226.

It is one of the few ritual rural customs to survive the passage of time and takes place on Wakes Monday every year.

Other attractions on the day include exhibitions and craft stalls.

A carbon analysis carried out discovered that the antlers used in the dance date back to the 11th century.

Take a look at Chadsmoor

Chadsmoor and High Town to the north-east of Cannock represent the late-19th-and 20th-century expansion of the town as a mining area.

They now form an almost continuously built-up area joining Cannock to Hednesford. Much of West Chadsmoor consists of council and other housing dating from between the two World Wars and later.

As well as its popular row of niche village shops, Chadsmoor is a popular place for eating out with a number of Indian takeaways within a short distance.

It has a distinctive church history with a school-church being opened in 1874, with transepts and a small chancel being added in 1876. The foundation stone of the present church of St Chad was laid at Easter 1891 'in the presence of a large company of miners and their families', and the church was consecrated in 1892. It is built of machine-made red brick and consists of nave, chancel, south porch, vestry, and organ chamber. Stained glass was inserted in the east window in 1908 in memory of Tabitha Benton. There is one bell in a turret at the north-west corner of the church.

The small wooden church of St Aidan in Pye Green Road, West Chadsmoor, was in use from 1947 to 1956 when it was converted into a church hall. It had one bell. The present church, begun in 1955 on a nearby site on the opposite side of the road, was opened in 1956, the architects being Wood, Goldstraw, and Yorath of Stoke on Trent. Built of light-brown brick, the church consists of a wide nave, a shallow chancel, a south vestry, and a north porch, and has one bell.

A Primitive Methodist chapel was built at Chadsmoor in 1876 and was replaced in 1911 by a new chapel built in front of it. By 1956, the former chapel was being used as a Sunday school and also as a day school. The present chapel, of red brick with stone Gothic windows and doorways, was designed by Jeffries and Shipley.

There is one Baptist chapel, built in Arthur Street, in 1905 at a cost of £1,000. It replaced an earlier Baptist chapel, which stands behind it and was built in 1879. This former chapel was used as a Sunday school and as an overflow for Chadsmoor Central Boys' School. The present chapel is of red brick with stone dressings and leaded windows. It has seating accommodation for 250.

Man space that's full of style

Autumn Homes & Gardens

TIME was when decor was a girly pastime, and men who were enthusiastic about interior design were warily regarded as being a little too in touch with their feminine side.

How things change; nowadays men are unashamedly style savvy and are blazing a trail with a rough luxe look which appeals to women as well. It features textures – beaten, rusted metal, loft-style unplastered brick work – which combine brilliantly with dark tones and leather and create a hard-edged industrial/luxury gentleman's club combo.

"The lines are becoming more blurred over what style suits a "men's space" and one which is shared by both sexes," says Maurizio Pellizzoni, a designer at architecture and interiors firm MPD London.

"Undoubtedly, a rough luxe industrial dimension incorporating leathers and metallics which is striking without being overbearing, a characteristic of rooms that appeals to men, is becoming increasingly popular generally."

The key to creating a successful male-orientated space is to create an environment which is stylish, refined and inviting, says Pellizzoni, as men want areas where they can instantly relax and unwind.

Sophisticated

"Fun and playful elements which distract from the everyday pressures and preoccupations of work make an interior interesting and add to the chill-down feel," he says.

"In a recent project we created a sophisticated entertainment room for after-hours entertaining, which had a gentlemen's club flavour.

"It had a large cinema screen, a pool table and bespoke Hollywood-style bar. It's all about a space which isn't too serious in tone but speaks volumes about the client's style, taste and design credentials."

Another designer, Timothy Oulton – who has new ranges at Barker & Stonehouse which combine elegance and comfortable style accessorised by prints of historical sporting heroes, perfect for a unisex space – describes his style as "rooted in vintage British designs, but with a twist of the unexpected".

"I like mixing bold combinations of authentic materials, like rich leather with shiny steel, or clear cut crystal with rusted metal," he adds. "Your home should be a source of energy, an inspiration for life's journeys and adventures. It should become part of your story."

What better time to encourage the man in your life to embrace his inner decor diva? Here's the experts' guide to rooms for the boys (and girls!) and the best kit around.

"When designing a male space, we often choose to use strong colours and lines to create a bold and distinguished look," says designer Katharine Pooley. For example, the current trend for warm metals, like copper and brass, works well in men's rooms, as they are bold yet luxurious."

Bold tones of red and burnt orange as accent colours will lift a design and give it a masculine edge, she says, while substantial fixtures and striking textures will complement a bold, masculine environment which is opulent while still being sleek and modern.

Unreconstructed males needn't panic, as leather furniture – that ubiquitous sofa – is still an essential ingredient. Harvey's L-shaped Sphere sofa in leather, is currently reduced from £1,099 to £999. Alternatively, if jaw-dropping humour's more to your taste, settle into a seat that resembles the open mouth of Jaws, a Rodnik shark fin chair, £449, Made.com. Retro's still in vogue and a Retro Bowler Hat Cushion, £37, Great British Designs, is a snip.

"Masculine interiors are effortlessly cool and can be created with relatively few elements," says Claire Hornby, creative stylist at Barker & Stonehouse.

"Neutral colours, clean lines and sleek, stainless steel finishes will create a super-luxe feel, which will work well in modern spaces.

For those looking for something a little more traditional, natural materials such as aniline leathers and beautifully crafted chunky timbers, paired with soft lighting and dark walls, will exude an understated glamour.

Vintage maps and retro memorabilia inspired by pursuits such as riding, tennis and cricket will go hand in hand with this backdrop and will come together to establish a curated feel."

Timothy Oulton's collection includes a leather Charlie chair, £975 each, which teamed with a generous Axel Dining Table, £1150, would be the ultimate in cool dining.

His Airfoil Rectangular Desk, which resembles a section of a plane wing, is an investment piece; reflected in its sky-high price, £3125. All from Barker & Stonehouse.

Key to making moving in as painless as possible

CONGRATULATIONS on your new home! The inspection is complete, the papers are signed, and the keys to your new home are in your hands.

Here are some helpful tips from ZipRealty to make your transition as smooth as possible.

Figure out how much help you need with your move Depending on how much you have and how far you're going, you may want to consider hiring a mover.

Your three basic options are: -

Doing all the packing and moving yourself with the help of some willing friends - pizza, anyone?

You handle packing up the boxes, but the movers load, move and unload the truck for you - this is a great option if you're moving to a completely new area and need a little muscle for your belongings!

The moving company handles the whole move from the packing of boxes down to unloading your stuff at your new home - this is obviously more expensive, but great if you're physically unable to load and unload, if you're going far, if you have a lot of fragile items or if you're in a big rush

Do a little research on your service providers, so you can get your utilities set up right before you move. Compare different service providers to make sure you get the best deal for your new neighbourhood.

It's totally easy to set up mail forwarding, so you can have all your mail rerouted to your new home - just request a change of address.

Moving in can be fun but try to share the work around to lighten the load

One of the most exciting things about becoming a homeowner is finally having a place that's yours and that you can personalize any way you want.

That's right, no more ugly wood panelling or blank white walls (unless that's your thing).

Take it a step (and a room) at a time. Whether you're an expert DIYer, or just want to do a few simple things to your new home to show off your personal style, there are loads of ideas out there to get you started.

Find a project you like that fits in your budget, and enjoy creating a home that's all your own.

Make sure you're up-to-speed about finance issues as a homeowner, such as your mortgage interest payments. Get educated on your property taxes and what tax breaks you qualify for.

Rising star is on brink of the big time thanks to Saturdays

Singing Lenny is boosting his Rep

DUDLEY comedian turned actor Lenny Henry, currently starring in Rudy's Rare Records at Birmingham Rep, will be talking about his career in a special event at the Centenary Square theatre on Saturday at 5pm, being recorded by BBC Radio 3. Later that day, at 10pm, Lenny turns soul man with Poor White Trash and The Little Big Horns at the Rep Studio.

The Faulty Towers Dining Experience (don't ask for the Waldorf Salad) is being held at the Rep Banqueting Suites until Sunday, which is also the annual Open Day at the city playhouse. The Russian Doctor, based on a remarkable episode from the life of Anton Chekhov, is at the Rep Door tonight, tomorrow and Saturday.

Stand Up & Rock with Jasper and co

COMEDIAN Jasper Carrott is teaming up with some of his Brummie musician mates for the Stand Up & Rock tour, that is coming to Wolverhampton Grand Theatre on Tuesday.

The evening will include stand-up comedy from Jasper plus music from Bev Bevan and Trevor Burton, formerly of 1960s hitmakers The Move, the Rockin Berries' Geoff Turton and Joy Strachan-Brain from Celtic rockers Quill.

The tour also goes to Dudley Town Hall on October 16 , Birmingham Town Hall on October 21, Sutton Coldfield Town Hall on October 30 and 31.

Faggots, Fizzogs and fun

THE Black Country Living Museum in Dudley has put together its own version of tapas dishes— delicacies such as grorty dick, faggots, gray paes and bacon — to celebrate its's Black Country Night at the Tipton Road museum on Saturday from 6.30 to 10pm.

The evening of food and fun will feature several acts including The Empty Can, who were behind the Black Country anthem I Vow to Thee My Black Country, and internet sensations The Fizzogs, known for their Dancing Grannies comedy routine which went viral. Plus choir Got2Sing.

Musicians such as Brett Huckfield and Linda Simpson will appear alongside a tribute to local legend Dolly Allen, marking 70 years since her first stand-up routine in 1944. James Stevens, from The Empty Can, said: "There will be an outdoor stage so there will be a real festival atmosphere."

FOR Beth Sherburn it took one moment in the spotlight as a child to give birth to a dream.

The nerves subsided as she took to the stage at The Straits Primary School to give her first solo performance. Afterwards, as the audience cheered, she decided to follow her dream of becoming a singer.

Fast forward to today and Beth, from Gornal, is ready to take her big step to stardom. The 23-year-old is celebrating being picked to support girl group The Saturdays on their Greatest Hits tour, arriving at Birmingham's NIA on Monday.

Dudley singer Beth Sherburn

It caps a meteoric rise for Beth over the past two years since being discovered singing while she worked behind the perfume counter at Debenhams at the Merry Hill shopping centre. She caught the attention of John McLaughlin — the man behind Take That, Girls Aloud and Busted — while singing the Michael Bublé hit Christmas to herself in November 2012.

It was a fairytale story for Beth who quit her job to sign a record deal and within weeks was achieving chart success with her debut single, a cover of Duran Duran's Ordinary World which entered the UK Club charts.

"It has been an amazing few months," she said. "When I heard that I was going to be supporting The Saturdays I was so happy. "

She can still remember the encouraging words of primary school headteacher Adrian Slack who gave her the confidence to take on her first solo, a version of Celine Dion's Falling into You.

"He was amazing and really helped me," she said. "When I performed that first time it brought me out of my shell and I immediately knew what I wanted to do and that's be a singer."

Her mother Sarah is a registrar in Dudley and father Graeme works for Dudley Council. Beth, who also attended Ellowes Hall Sports College, said they have always supported her and her sisters Leah and Ellie.

Cats on the prowl again after revamp

HIT musical Cats is in Birmingham before returning to the West End.

The latest revival of Andrew Lloyd Webber's show — now featuring a rapping cat — opened at Birmingham's Hippodrome Theatre this week and runs until September 27 on its last stop before heading to the London Palladium.

Cats first opened in the West End in 1981 and ran for a record-breaking 21 years, playing almost 9,000 performances. On Broadway it ran for 18 years and has been performed in 26 countries.

Zizi Strallen plays Demeter in the current cast, following in the footsteps of her West End star sister Summer Strallen and her aunt Bonnie Langford, also former Cats performers.

Jane is preparing for her Grand gig

SINGER and TV star Jane McDonald bring her latest tour to Wolverhampton Grand Theatre on Wednesday, September 17.

The former cruise ship entertainer who became one of TV's Loose Women will perform a selection of songs from her latest album The Singer of Your Song. She will also sing some of her best-loved tunes from throughout her career, including some of her own compositions.

The show will start at 7.30pm with tickets priced between £19.50 and £34.50. Club singer Jane shot to fame after being featured on docusoap The Cruise. To book tickets call 01902 429212.

Tumble: The Grand Final (BBC1, 6pm)

Andrea McLean, Emma Samms and John Partridge are among those who have already been voted off the show. Now it's the final, and it's anybody's guess who will win the BBC's inaugural celebrity gymnastics contest and that coveted trophy. Over the past few weeks there's been some impressive work from the likes of ex-Blue Peter presenter Peter Duncan, one of the oldest gymnasts on the show, and actor Bobby Lockwood, one of the youngest. Now the six finalists and their professional partners hope to win over viewers with their floor and aerial trapeze challenges. For the final time this series, host Alex Jones welcomes the judges, Olympic gymnast Nadia Comaneci, Team GB medallist Louis Smith, former Commonwealth Games champion Craig Heap and aerial choreographer Sebastien Stella.

Stephen Mulhern

Sunday Night at the Palladium (ITV, 7pm)

New series. After its initial run all those years ago between 1955 and 1967, followed by a brief revival during 1973 and 1974, the variety show makes its much-anticipated return with some of the UK's best-loved comedians and entertainers performing inside the West End theatre, including Rob Brydon, Jimmy Carr and Bradley Walsh. First up, though, presenting duties are handed over to entertainer Stephen Mulhern, who will be compering the show in front of the 2,200-strong audience. Guests include singing superstar Bryan Adams, girl band Little Mix, comic Alan Davies, speciality act Les Beaux Freres and quick-change duo David & Dania. Plus, tenor Alfie Boe, who will be performing Bring Him Home from Les Miserables.

FILM CHOICES

The River Wild, Channel 5, 11pm
A headstrong white-water rafting expert embarks on a holiday with her family, but their fun comes to an abrupt end when two killers show up. The fugitives' only escape route from the law is down a raging river, so they take the woman and her son hostage to act as guides. Meanwhile, her husband desperately tries to keep track from the riverbank, waiting for his opportunity to launch a rescue attempt. Action thriller, with Meryl Streep, Kevin Bacon, David Strathairn and Joseph Mazzello. (1994)

TUESDAY
Mystery Woman: In the Shadows, Channel 5, 3.15pm
Bookshop-owning sleuth Samantha Kinsey attends a writers' convention, where she befriends a former KGB agent who has launched a new career as a mystery author. When her new Russian friend is suddenly murdered, Samantha resolves to track down the killer. Whodunit, starring Kellie Martin, Malachi Throne and Nina Siemaszko. (2007)

Hot Fuzz, Friday, ITV, 10.40pm

WEDNESDAY
Win a Date with Tad Hamilton!, BBC1, 11.50pm
A screen idol's reputation is damaging his career, so his manager comes up with a plan to rehabilitate the actor's public image by giving ordinary women across America the chance to win a date with him. The prize eventually goes to a supermarket checkout girl – much to the annoyance of her best friend, who has secretly carried a torch for her for years. Romantic comedy, with Kate Bosworth, Topher Grace and Josh Duhamel. (2004)

THURSDAY
Goodnight for Justice, Channel 5, 3.15pm
A boy witnesses his parents being murdered by bandits, and grows up to be a judge with the intention of seeing the killers pay for their crimes. When he finally tracks down the men responsible, his desire for revenge drives him toward breaking his oath to uphold the law. Western, with Luke Perry and Lara Gilchrist. (2011)

FRIDAY
Hot Fuzz, ITV, 10.40pm
An overly zealous, by-the-book London policeman is reassigned to a sleepy country village where the crime rate is virtually zero. But just as the officer's new environment begins to chafe, a grisly series of so-called accidents gives him reason to suspect a conspiracy is afoot. Action comedy, with Simon Pegg. (2007)

PICK OF THE WEEK

After winning a Bafta for her performances as the wife of a Great Train Robber in Mrs Biggs, you might think that starring in TV biopics held no fear for Sheridan Smith.

But then, not many people were familiar with the real Charmian Biggs, whereas Smith's latest role sees her playing one of the most famous women on British telly – Cilla Black.

So, it's not surprising the actress admits to being apprehensive about taking it on. She says: "The drama is slightly more daunting because Cilla is so well known. And it's daunting thinking what Cilla will make of your performance."

Even though she knows viewers will be comparing her to the genuine article, it seems Sheridan has resisted the temptation to slip in a lorra, lorra catchphrases.

"The director Paul Whittington and I talked for a long time. We didn't want it to be a mimic of Cilla. I'm not an impersonator and that would be doing her a disservice. It's done with much more respect than that."

Of course, it also helps that when the three-part drama opens in the early 1960s, the artist formerly known as Priscilla White is still a secretary with a sideline in performing on Liverpool's club scene alongside such local sensations as the Big Three, Kingsize Taylor and a certain bunch of hopefuls called the Beatles.

Sheridan says: "One of the great things about telling this story is that some of the younger generation have no idea about Cilla's singing career. They know Blind Date and Surprise Surprise onwards. This is the time of Merseybeat – what an exciting era."

Sheridan says: "Cilla wrote something in her autobiography which I thought was such a lovely thing… Bobby said 'Every successful woman needs a good man behind her.' When Cilla said she thought it was the other way around, Bobby replied, 'So? Why shouldn't we break the mould?'"

However, it seems she didn't get off to the most promising start with the man who would go on to be the love of her life. When the would-be pop star first meets Bobby (Aneurin Barnard), he tells her he's in the music business, so she's put out to later discover he's lied about his job, and that even his flash car is hired.

"We went to dinner and I was so nervous. When you've grown up watching someone on telly you just hope they're going to be as nice as they come across. And she was. She gave me her blessing and I just hope she likes it."

Sheridan Smith stars in Cilla, Monday, ITV, 9pm

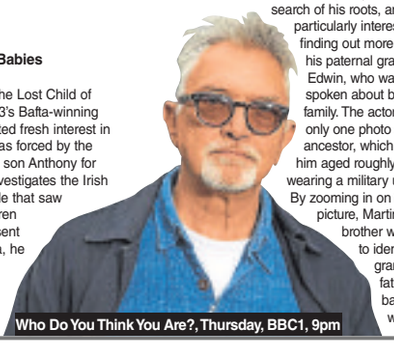
MONDAY
Jon Richardson Grows Up
Channel 4, 10pm
New series. The 8 Out of 10 Cats team captain gets to grips with adult issues, from mortgages and marriage to parenthood. In the first of three editions, he embarks on a road trip with fellow comedian Matt Forde to uncover different attitudes to relationships. They start off by meeting a couple who have been married for 54 years to see if they can provide answers. The boys then encounter people who contest the norm when it comes to co-habiting and marriage, such as swingers, and receive an invitation to the wedding of a couple who have six marriages between them. Jon also arranges for Matt to visit one of the UK's leading matchmakers, which leads to two dates in one night.

TUESDAY
Live UEFA Champions League
ITV, 7.30pm
Liverpool get their first Champions League campaign since the 2009/10 season under way when they entertain Ludogorets Razgrad in this Group B encounter at Anfield. While the Reds' second-place finish in the Premier League last term ensured they did not have to participate in the play-offs, the visitors qualified in dramatic style. With their tie against Steaua Bucharest heading to a penalty shoot-out, the Bulgarian champions looked destined for an early exit from the competition as their goalkeeper had been sent off after all the substitutes had been used. However, right-back Cosmin Moti proved to be an unlikely hero, saving two spot-kicks and converting one himself to help his team progress. Despite their opponents' heroics in that contest, the Reds will see anything less than a win tonight as a major setback, with tough fixtures to follow against holders Real Madrid and Swiss champions FC Basel.

WEDNESDAY
This World: Ireland's Lost Babies
BBC2, 9pm
When Martin Sixsmith wrote The Lost Child of Philomena Lee, it inspired 2013's Bafta-winning movie Philomena, and generated fresh interest in the story of the woman who was forced by the Catholic Church to give up her son Anthony for adoption. In this film, Martin investigates the Irish Catholic Church's role in a trade that saw thousands of 'illegitimate' children taken from their mothers and sent abroad. In Ireland and America, he hears the touching stories of lives that were changed for ever. He also discovers some of the tragic consequences which occurred when prospective parents were not properly vetted, and witnesses the struggle of a mother and child separated by continents who hope to find each other before time runs out.

THURSDAY
Who Do You Think You Are?
BBC1, 9pm
Inspector George Gently and The Professionals star Martin Shaw is the latest celebrity to go in search of his roots, and he's particularly interested in finding out more about his paternal grandfather Edwin, who was rarely spoken about by his family. The actor has only one photo of his ancestor, which shows him aged roughly 17 and wearing a military uniform. By zooming in on the picture, Martin's brother was able to identify their grandfather's badge, which suggests he was in the Royal Marines. Now, by meeting with a military historian, Martin tries to fill in the rest of the story, and in the process learns more about Edwin's role in defending Birmingham against German air assaults during the Second World War.



Who Do You Think You Are?, Thursday, BBC1, 9pm

Scotland Decides
BBC1, 10.35pm
Huw Edwards presents live coverage from Glasgow as the votes are counted in the Scottish independence referendum, with BBC political editor Nick Robinson and Scotland 2014's Sarah Smith on hand to provide expert commentary and Jeremy Vine analysing how the vote is building up throughout the night with the help of his virtual-reality graphics. Political correspondents will be live at every count, Andrew Neil will have the reaction from Westminster and teams in Wales and Northern Ireland will discuss the impact of the decision.

Friday
Storage: Flog the Lot!
Channel 5, 8pm
Professional dealers meet for a secret auction at an empty warehouse to bid against each other for a series of mystery items in four storage lots, before attempting to turn a profit with their winnings. Will anyone be caught out by a red herring and risk losing up to £25,000 of their own money?

Cannock Chase
Clinical Commissioning Group

Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) wants to hear your views on its proposal to change the opening hours at the Minor Injuries Unit in Cannock.

The CCG wants to hear people's views on our proposal to reduce the current opening hours of the Minor Injuries Unit from (8am until midnight) to between 11am and 7pm. A consultation will be running until September 28th.

We need to ensure that local people are able to access the services they need at the MIU at times our data shows they need access to it the most. At the same time we also need to ensure that the service provided is cost effective and continues to offer safe, high quality care.

We have already talked to patients who use the unit by surveying nearly 200 people and have worked closely with the Healthy Staffordshire Select Committee (Staffordshire County Council's health scrutiny councillors) to discuss our proposal. The purpose of our consultation is to give local people, patients and stakeholders in the Cannock Chase area a real say on our proposal and on the final decision taken.

We have already held two events (in Cannock and Hednesford) and have a further one scheduled on Thursday, September 18th Rugeley Rose Theatre and Community Hall, Taylors Lane, Rugeley, WS15 2AA, 6pm - 8pm.

Based on feedback from the events held so far, we have scheduled a further event on Wednesday, September 24th Civic Ballroom, the Civic Centre, Beecroft Road, Cannock, WS11 1BG, between 6pm-8pm.

The members of the public we have met with so far also told us they wanted a better understanding of the health services available to them and what they are best used for. There are a number of healthcare services available for the people of Cannock and the surrounding area to access for everything from a grazed knee and diarrhoea to a sprained ankle and chest pain.

Self-care	Grazed Knee Cough or cold Sore throat	Make sure your medicine cupboard is stocked up with over the counter remedies
NHS 111 (CALL 111)	Unsure Unwell Confused Need to know where to go	When you need medical help fast but it's not a 999 emergency
Pharmacy	Diarrhoea Runny Nose Headache	For advice on common illnesses and medicines to treat them
Your GP	Ear pain Backache Throat infection	If you have an illness or injury that won't go away make an appointment to see your doctor
Minor Injuries Unit	Strains Sprains Stitches	For minor injuries
A&E and 999 (999)	Choking Chest pain Blackout Blood loss	Life threatening situations and emergency

Fiat 500 is freshened and is still cutest car

By James Parker

With a more powerful TwinAir engine, an upscale trim level slotted in and an interior with a smart digital instrument display, the Fiat 500 has evolved. One thing hasn't changed – it's still the cutest city car money can buy.

Fiat has taken the opportunity to refresh the 500. Wisely the company has left the styling largely unchanged and has instead concentrated on updating the technology, making the car yet more efficient and giving the customer more choice when it comes to engines and trims.

The headliner is the fact that Fiat has introduced a 105PS version of the popular twin-cylinder 875cc TwinAir engine. This engine uses the same technology pioneered on the Italian brand's MultiAir units, replacing the camshafts of a four-valves-per-cylinder unit with electro-hydraulic control of the inlet valves, allowing the engine to breathe more efficiently.

As before, there's an 85PS TwinAir offered that gets to 62mph in 11 seconds, but the 105PS car is usefully quicker. Combined with a six-speed manual gearbox as standard, it develops 145Nm of torque at 2,000rpm in Sport mode, gets to 62mph in 10 seconds and on to a top speed of 117mph. You'll also find rear disc brakes fitted, as opposed to the drums on the lower-powered car.

Aside from the two TwinAir engines, 500 customers can also choose from a rather breathless 69PS 1.2-litre petrol and an altogether more satisfying 95PS 1.3 MultiJet II Turbo Diesel.

Both TwinAir engines are also offered with the Dualogic gearbox. Two driving modes are offered – Standard and Eco. In Eco, torque is restricted and the steering lightens up, which makes low-speed manoeuvring even easier. Press the Sport button in the 105PS TwinAir model and the 'eco' display transforms into a turbo-boost gauge. It's a very slick touch.

The interior of the 500 offers a beautifully pared-back look and feel but this time round there's a genuine piece of modernity in the dial pack. A seven-inch TFT digital instrument display replicates the retro aesthetic of the analogue dials, with speedometer, rev counter and trip computer all easily read.

Image

The centre of the display – which contains a digital image of the car – can be configured to show various trip computer readouts, such as distance travelled, instant fuel consumption and range.

The screen can also display media player and telephone readings and, when fitted with a TomTom 2 LIVE satnav system, navigation information also appears in the display, including junction graphics and real-time traffic updates.

The build quality feels decent with surprisingly sturdy controls.

Any doubts about the mechanical integrity of the complex TwinAir engineering should be laid to rest by the fact that it uses a similar technology to Honda's impeccably reliable VTEC system, insofar as it uses engine oil as hydraulic fluid in a rugged and elegant solution that's not overly expensive to build.

Retro green and three-layer white paint finishes are now offered and the S model is available with a striking blue. Revised alloy wheel designs, seat fabrics and leather upholsteries complete the updates.

Proportion

As before, pricing sits mainly in the £10,000 to £14,000 bracket for the hard top version, but Fiat has found a huge proportion of buyers wanting to pay figures towards the top of that range – and beyond. Hence, a greater range of options for customers who aren't particularly price-sensitive when it comes to their 500.

The Cult trim represents the top of the 500 hierachy which starts with 'Pop' and rises through 'Colour Therapy' and 'Lounge' to '500S'.

If you want the Convertible 500C model, there's a £3,000 price premium to pay.

As with all 500 models, a high level of safety equipment comes as standard, including anti-lock brakes with electronic brakeforce distribution, seven airbags (including a driver's side knee bag), ISOFIX attachments and daytime running lights. ESP stability control with anti slip regulation and Hill Holder is also available.

To be honest, Fiat hasn't needed to do a whole lot to retain the 500's popularity. It still looks great, it's always been fun to drive and as long as the pricing doesn't get too ambitious, the market remains there for it.

Great mix of economy, style and performance

By John Griffiths

There's something going on under the bonnet of a new range of Audis which benefits both the environment and drivers – particularly business users.

The company's huge range of models has been joined by 'Ultra' versions of the A4, A5 and A6, using an update of its 2.0-litre turbo diesel engine, already one of the most powerful in its class with up to 190Ps on tap in the case of the A6.

The net result is a saving of hundreds of pounds on fuel, the tax disc and 'benefit in kind' tax without sacrificing performance: indeed, the new Ultra range actually has more oomph than its predecessors.

I drove the Ultra-powered version of the £30,850 A5 Coupe, a sleek executive express with the potential to go from a standstill to 62mph in a rapid 8.3 seconds.

Yet it is also capable of beating many small hatchbacks in terms of economy, with average fuel consumption of more than 67mpg and a CO2 emissions rating of just 109g/km.

This means, compared to its predecessor, the tax band falls from C to B and a 16 per cent drop in the business driver's tax bill – nearly £250 as well as savings at the pumps. The figures are identical for the new Ultra-powered range of A4 saloons.

Saving money and developing your green credentials normally means a trade-off with performance and driving pleasure, but in this case the opposite is true.

The 2.0-litre turbo diesel under the bonnet is a completely new development, designed for even more efficiency and leaner burning. It also has a new 'selective catalytic reduction' system which removes nitrogen oxides from the exhaust gases, ensuring the cars meet EU6 standards, the most stringent ever applied to European cars.

Same

But the driver also has the same maximum engine power of 163Ps under his right foot but at lower revs (1,200rpm lower, at 3,000rpm in fact), and maximum torque is increased to 400Nm and over a wider spread, from just 1,750rpm.

If the figures don't mean much, you will notice the difference long before you pull up at the pumps.

It means in normal driving the car whispers along at very low rpm, saving fuel and reducing noise levels, but a little more pressure from the right foot will send it surging forward smoothly without the need to stir the six-speed manual gearbox.

All the Ultra models come as standard with lowered, sports suspension which not only reduces drag (therefore aiding economy), it also means even sharper handling. The standard alloys are reduced to 17in as a result, equipped with 225/50 low-profile tyres.

It turns into bends positively and accurately and grips well, and based on a test drive on a variety of rural roads, it has little impact on ride quality.

The Ultra models currently come as manual, front-wheel drive only, with no four-wheel drive Quattro versions.

The A5 is only available at present in SE trim, which comes with the sort of kit you'd expect from an upmarket coupe. Driver and front passenger have executive levels of space, but the sleek coupe shape does mean a small sacrifice in room for those in the rear compared to the A4 saloon.

Boot space is well up to class standards, ranging from 455 to 829 litres depending on whether the rear bench seat is up or folded flat.

Driver and passengers can sit back in heated Milano leather upholstery, with the benefit of electronic climate control and an upmarket sound system with multi-media interface.

You also get automatic wipers and lights, parking sensors, satnav, multi-function steering wheel, electric front windows, and cruise control. Safety equipment includes multiple airbags as well as a limited slip differential and the usual array of electronic wizardry, such as ABS and stability control.

You can get a slice of the action with new Leon FR

By John Griffiths

You can't have your cake and eat it, so the old saying goes: but like so many things in the motoring world technology has changed all that.

You can have a car that is both fast and frugal, and one of the best examples currently on the market is SEAT's Leon FR, the diesel-fuelled equivalent of the mighty Cupra.

In three-door coupe body style only, it's sleek, stylish and better equipped than many more expensive 'premium' saloons: it's also capable of tackling the 0 to 62mph in 7.4 seconds and yet it is also capable of averaging more than 62mpg with low CO2 emissions of 119g/km.

But it isn't only quick in the sprint: with 380NM of torque (more than a Porsche Cayman) from as low as 1,750rpm it pulls strongly from the word go, unleashing convincing in-gear acceleration for rapid exits to corners and effective overtaking.

There are rivals – the flagships of the diesel-powered Golf GTis and Audi A3s which are, of course, from the same stable, with the same engine. There's also the BMW 1 Series M Sport, but you'd have to pay between £2,200 and £5,000 more for one of these different badges.

Beauty is in the eye of the beholder but the FR is arguably the real head-turner or the bunch, with its sculptured body work and LED headlights and taillights.

Unlike many hot hatchbacks of the past, the Leon is one of the most complete cars around, and one that will bring a smile to your face and, with room for five in comfort, it's also perfect for transporting the family. Like all new generation Leons, there's more head and legroom and boot space is up by around ten per cent, to 390 litres with five on board.

The FR has sports suspension and the car is lowered by some 15mm, with steering that is light yet positive which makes tackling twisty roads a pleasure.

The top FRs (there's also a 150Ps version) also get a multi-link suspension system, designed to ensure maximum contact between tyre and road. And like all new-generation Leons, it's considerably lighter and has a wider track than its predecessor to improve handling.

Smooth

The sharp handling doesn't come at the expense of a typically harsh sporting car ride: in fact it is notably smooth and quiet. It has a combination of real-world performance, passenger comfort and refinement which would make it a serious competitor in the grand tourer class.

At the car's heart is a two-litre, turbocharged diesel (the same used in the Golf and Audi) with 184ps of power, or 181bhp in old money, which for SEAT is reserved solely for FR models.

The test car was fitted with the group's DSG dual clutch, six-speed transmission which is renowned for its smooth and responsive operation.

Naturally there are paddles behind the steering wheel for rapid manual changes. I find the DSG's electronic controls are intelligent enough for almost any conditions, but the ability to easily down shift for fine control on a steep incline, for example, is sometimes welcome.

Inside, the centre of the dash is dominated by the colour touch screen control for, among other things, the premium sound system and satnav. Most stereo, trip and telephone controls are duplicated on the steering wheel.

The touch screen also controls, simply and intuitively, features such as the comprehensive trip computer and SEAT's driver profile system: two quick dabs of the index finger and you can rapidly set the car up in normal, eco or sport mode, or indeed to your individual preferences.

Usefully, though, you can bimble along in eco mode and do your bit for the environment but, should an overtaking opportunity present itself, a nudge of the gear selector takes you straight into sport mode, dropping a gear or two and unleashing all that power and torque.

Driver profile alters throttle response, steering feel and, in DSG versions, gearbox response, to suit the circumstances: for example in sport mode holding the lower gear to higher rpm.

In 'normal' mode, the throttle is less sharp, the steering feels lighter and the DSG will change gear hold the higher gears for longer, for better economy and smooth progress around town.

Eco mode takes that profile a little further and even alters the climate control and engine stop/start systems to maximise fuel savings.

It's part of a raft of technology fitted to the FR, much of it designed to make the car even safer. Apart from the now usual ABS and stability controls, there is a limited slip differential for improved cornering performance plus hill start assist.

The company has revealed that its multi-award-winning 1.0-litre Ecoboost turbocharged petrol engine now powers one in every five cars sold in Europe, totalling 120,000 vehicles from January to the end of June.

That figure is an increase from 104,000 1.0-litre Ecoboost-powered cars sold in the same period in 2013.

Within the statistics there is a clear move away from diesel in some sectors, with the B-Max showing 47 per cent of sales going to the smallest Ecoboost unit. One third (33 per cent) of Focus buyers also went for the same engine.

"Customers are clearly enjoying the benefits from a small engine that offers great fuel efficiency with no compromise to refinement or performance," said Barb Samardzich, chief operating officer, Ford of Europe.

"The range of models offering the 1.0-litre EcoBoost engine will rise to 11 when the all-new Mondeo is launched in the coming months, and the new 140 PS version in the Fiesta Red Edition and Black Edition shows there is even more potential."

The engine is the first to win the international Engine of the Year accolade three times running, and is available in 99bhp, 123bhp and 138bhp versions according to model choice.

In driving seat with V40

By James Parker

The Volvo V40 is a slick and wholly convincing family hatch. Where V used to mean 'estate' in Volvo nomenclature, this time round it's a five-door spin-off of the C30 coupe with a broad range of engines and some delightful interior detailing. Prepare to be surprised.

Most British-bought V40s will deliver diesel drive via the four-cylinder 115bhp, 1.6-litre unit we're looking at here, as fitted to the entry-level D2. It's no ball of fire of course – 60mph takes 11.7 seconds on the way to 118mph – but it's as fast as most will need it to be and 270Nm of torque means you won't have to row the car along with the gearlever in town, an environment where, the V40 is very much at home.

The result is a very good compromise indeed of absorbent ride and assured handling composure.

You can always spoil it if you want to by opting for a 'sports' chassis that offers firmer springs and dampers, and lowers the ride height by just under half an inch, also lowering the centre of gravity.

The D2 model is capable of a headline-grabbing 78.5mpg on the combined cycle and a 94g/km of CO2 reading that'll side-steps the need for road tax and payment of the London congestion charge.

The latest Volvo XC60 is more smartly styled these days – particularly at the front where there's a much sleeker look. But the important stuff lies beneath the bonnet.

The AWD D4 diesel model in RDesign trim that almost all buyers choose offers a sophisticated and efficient engine, namely a 2.4-litre five-cylinder unit now upgraded to 181bhp.

Option

There's also a £1,500 option of automatic transmission with a Geartronic six-speed gearbox.

The D4 AWD manual model will return 53.3mpg on the combined cycle and 139g/km of CO2, which is actually very good by class standards.

The latest styling changes comprise a redesigned front featuring a re-sculpted bonnet.

The XC60 also benefits from an interior upgrade. There are now better quality wood inlays, a plusher headlining, textile B-pillars and there are also some very well finished silk metal frames around the air vents and light controls.

The rear seats remain a little higher than the front pair to give better visibility for children and the two outer seats in the back can be specified with two-stage booster cushions.

The interior feels very airy courtesy of some serious glazing overhead, the laminated glass panorama roof being one of the biggest in the sector.

As in the XC70, the rear seat is a three-piece affair that folds 40-20-40, with each section capable of folding down completely flat.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.

Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Eye for detail, self motivated, enthusiastic, confident...

Have you got what it takes?

Sales Relationship Merchandisers

Do you have an eye for detail, are you self-motivated, enthusiastic and are able to communicate effectively and with confidence.

The Express & Star and Shropshire Star are looking for a team of sales relationship merchandisers to grow audience, strengthen the relationship with retailers, readers and ensure the brand experience is positive.

Working within a busy customer focused environment, the successful applicants will work as part of a team, in designated territories, you will be required to ensure that all our titles are available, in key strategic positions to maximise response and exposure.

Previous sales or merchandising experience in the FMCG market is desirable, but not essential. The ability to react quickly and positively to a wide variety of situations is required. A professional attitude must be displayed at all times. You must have a full current driving licence, transport will be provided.

In return we offer full training and support, an annual salary of £15,000 pro rata, 25 days holiday per year and enrolment into the company pension scheme.

All positions are 20 hours per week worked across 5 days between Monday-Saturday, weekends and Bank Holiday working will be required on a rota basis.

If you would like to be considered for one of these roles please send your CV and covering letter to:

Personnel Department
Midland News Association
Queen Street
Wolverhampton WV1 1ES

Or by e-mail to:
personnel@expressandstar.co.uk

CIRCULATION REPRESENTATIVE

The Shropshire Star is looking for a circulation representative to lead and motivate the sales teams to actively drive sales, grow audience and strengthen brand awareness.

Working in a busy customer focused environment the successful candidate will manage sales within a defined territory working closely with colleagues, retailers and supply points to maximise all business and sales opportunities. You will develop and nurture existing business relationships whilst actively seeking new sales opportunities working hard to achieve and exceed agreed KPI's.

The successful applicant will have a professional attitude, be able to demonstrate excellent customer service skills and have a real passion for driving sales. A proven track record in sales, particularly within the newspapers industry would be advantageous but is not essential as full training and support will be provided.

In return we offer a competitive annual salary, 25 days annual holiday per year and enrolment into the company pension scheme. Additionally the role comes with the benefit of a company car so a full driving licence is required.

Working Hours:
37.5 hours per week, worked across 5 days between Monday-Saturday, weekends and Bank Holiday working will be required on a rota basis

Ellie has her eye on breaking records

SWIMMING star Ellie Simmonds is determined to continue breaking records as the Rio de Janeiro Paralympic Games approach.

Simmonds burst on to the scene at the 2008 Games in Beijing with two gold medals as a 13-year-old.

Now 19, she shows few signs of slowing down ahead of her third Paralympics after impressing in the recent IPC Swimming European Championships in Eindhoven.

Simmonds, who has three world records and features in the Guinness World Records book, said: "To come away with three golds and two silvers and personal best and also a world record, the Europeans went pretty well for me.

"My aim to start off with is just to qualify (for Rio) and to go. I'd love to do personal bests out there, that would be great."

Simmonds, who is from Walsall, has three world records; 400metres freestyle, the 200m individual medley and, in the non-Paralympic discipline, the 800m freestyle.

Ellie Simmonds is in the 60th anniversary edition of the Guinness World Records book, available to

Two unbeaten runs come to an end

Cannock Chase Football League Premier League

THE top two unbeaten teams both lost over the weekend allowing the chasing pack to close within three points of them.

Hawkins Sports lost at home going down 2-1 to Rugeley Utd. Mark Banderwrack and Adam McFarlane scored to get Utd's first win of the season. Huntington FC lost 4-3 to CK77 in a seven goal thriller.

Trailing 2-0 Huntington fought back to level before finally losing. Man of the Match Nathan Cooper scored two goals one of which a 35 yard screamer. Dan Lomas and

Football

Brereton Lion fought back from two goals down to beat Harrisons 4-2. Stuart Simpson and Gary Dunn scored with Man of the Match Ash Andrews bagging two. Champions Ridware Oak beat Dynamo Lamb 4-3.

Brereton Town beat Belt Road 4-0. Jake Morvick, Sean Raddan, John Burnie and Curtis Pond all got on the score sheet.

Division One

Victoria scored seven again beating AFC Jubilee 7-0. Jade Hulse won Man of the Match for his four goals. Chase Spartans lost top spot by drawing 2-2 with Talbot.

Collier Arms beat Lea Hall 4-2 with Man of the Match Jay Holdcroft scoring two goals in a minute. Jordon Taylor and Micky Barton added a goal each.

Division Two

Bridgtown Social beat Miners Rest 6-2. Scott Mancitious scored two .

King George Casuals came back from 2-1 down to beat Cheslyn Hay 4-2. .

Jubilee beat Winding Wheel 5-2 with doubles from Ash Bently and Jason Pilkington. Trafalgar and Slade drew 2-2.

Division Three

Darlaston Green beat AFC Essington 2-1. Issac Cooper and Jacob Poolton's winner to bag the three points.

Continental Star 3 Heath Hayes 2

HEATH Hayes made a disastrous start to their FA Vase game against Star by conceding two goals in the first eight minutes.

Then on six minutes a ball over the top was missed by everyone including keeper Tom Burns allowing Dan Ellwell to walk the ball into the empty net.

A couple of minutes later a similar ball allowed Josh Ogarro to run through unchallenged to drive the ball past Burns.

Hayes were having problems coping with the nippy Star forwards at this point but defended well.

On 20minutes Dave Waple made it 2-1 when he scrambled home a loose ball that had come back off the keeper.

The second half was a more even affair but it was Star who increased their lead when Harry Phillips was judged to have bought down Ellwell and sent off.

Ogarro drove the free kick past the wall into the net.

Up against it from then on, Hayes made it 3-2 when Waple got his second but with 10 men and three minutes left it was too late.

Champs twice beaten ahead of new season

CANNOCK rounded up their pre-season friendlies with a double win over last year's NOW Pensions National Premier League Champions Beeston.

Cannock travelled to Nottingham on Thursday evening to take on the champions and went a goal behind. But the visitors drew level with a goal from captain Marc Edwards.

After the break Cannock stepped up a gear and goals from Pete Jackson and Alex Edmonstone completed the victory.

At the end of a successful club day at Chase Park on Saturday, when members were able to brush off the summer cobwebs, Cannock's first team took on Conference side Bowdon.

Dominate

Bowdon struck first but Cannock skipper Edwards levelled.

Cannock continued to dominate and added two more goals from Tom Morris and Dave Harris, two players who have made a welcome return to their home club this season.

Eventually Cannock found a semblance of control and started to apply the pressure again. However,

Hockey

With three minutes left, Harris found the net again but it was too little too late as Bowdon ended Cannock's 100 per cent pre-season record.

On Sunday Cannock welcomed Beeston to Chase Park and they had several international players returning to their squad.

Beeston had the better of the early exchanges and came close but Cannock new signing Dave Forrester, the Scottish national goalkeeper, make a string of fine saves.

Tom Morris found himself in enough space to strike a bobbled ball over the Beeston keeper to put Cannock in the lead. Despite facing seven penalty corners and being reduced to 10 men, Cannock dug deep and ground out the victory.

Saturday (September 13) sees the season start for real as Cannock entertain last season's League runners-up East Grinstead, 6pm start under floodlights.

Cannock new signing Sam Spencer fights off a challenge from Beeston's Will Byas.

Saddlers 'will beat injuries'

WALSALL defender Paul Downing insists the Saddlers will improve once they recover from their injury crisis.

The Saddlers' winless start to the League One season extended to six matches with Saturday's goalless draw at home to Colchester.

But Downing admitted injuries have made life harder for boss Dean Smithwho had seven players unavailable on Saturday including Romaine Sawyers, who was on international duty with St Kitts and Nevis.

Downing said: "I don't like to make excuses and we know we should have got more points than we've got but we are missing key players that would probably get in the team."

JORES OKORE is closing in on a Villa return after turning out for Denmark.

The defender played for more than half an hour as a substitute in his country's 2-1 Euro 2016 qualifying victory over Armenia in Copenhagen.

The 22-year-old also came through 90 minutes of Denmark under-21s' 4-2 victory over Russia last Wednesday.

Despite returning to club action in pre-season, Okore has yet to kick a ball competitively for Villa this season after suffering a cruciate knee ligament injury.

In his absence, Ron Vlaar and Philippe Senderos formed an effective alliance.Okore's last competitive match for Villa was almost a year ago.

Pitmen have to share the honours

Hednesford Town 1 Stockport County 1

HEDNESFORD Town were unable to make it three games won in succession at home after having to settle for a share of the points against Stockport County.

The Pitmen were first to score with a delightful ball from James Hurst which set Tom Peers away and his stinging shot was only palmed out as far as Danny Glover who chipped the ball home over County goalkeeper Danny Hurst.

County had looked dangerous from corners all game and another flag-kick into the box wasn't dealt with and Ryan was able to get up well and head home from six yards out.

The game was now very much end-to-end and County should have perhaps taken the lead in the 71st minute when substitute Kristian Dennis was put through on goal, only to completely fluff his chance.

Three minutes later Town almost grabbed a second when Peers saw his flicked effort just turned behind for a corner. This was one of many corners and free kicks earned Hednesford will host Guiseley at Keys Park on Saturday.

Tamworth 42 Burntwood 8
Staffordshire Senior Cup

TAMWORTH progressed to the semi-final of the Staffordshire Senior Cup which was not unexpected given that they play league rugby one level above Burntwood but the visitors hoped to have pushed them a lot closer than they did.

Burntwood were forced to play at a quicker pace than they wished when they had possession. They were harried into making mistakes and the home side capitalised to good effect.

After both sides probed for openings in the first 15 minutes, Tamworth hit the visitors for 14 points in a five minute spell.

Full back Brett Taylor tackled the runner but the ball was popped up and moved across field for the left winger to cross close to the posts for a converted try.

A penalty attempt was wide but the drop out went straight to the home outside half who initiated a slick backs' move finished off by the left winger again. This time the try was scored in the corner but conversion proved no problem.

Five minutes later Burntwood got on the scoreboard courtesy of good yardage made by Hal Gozukucuk and a couple of infringements made by the hosts, the second of which Will Peach goaled from the 10 metre line.

Either side of the half hour mark Burntwood were penalised when they had possession and the home kicker landed both attempts.

The visitors were left trailing 25-3 at the break. After spending ten minutes in the home 22 Tamworth kicked clear. The ball bounced kindly for the outside centre, who had been a threat all game, and he raced in for a try from near halfway.

With three minutes left of normal time Tamworth completed the scoring following another penalty kicked for a line out .

Rainworth Miners Welfare 1 Chasetown 2

THE scoreline may have looked close, but for large periods of this game, Chasetown were very much on top.

The Scholars could easily have added more goals to their tally, but were denied by a combination of the frame of the goal and a spirited display by on-loan Notts County keeper Harry Andrews.

Chasetown started well and after 12 minutes Nick Wellecomme struck the underside of the bar from inside the penalty area after a neat pass into his path from Lee Butler.

But it was the hosts who broke the deadlock against the run of play. The Scholars failed to clear the ball and former Chasetown striker Grant Ryan prodded home from close range through keeper John Bateman's legs.

Looping

Four minutes before the break though, Chasetown levelled when a looping cross was headed back across goal by Wellecomme and Nathan Waite got up strongly to head home from three yards.

Chasetown felt hard done by that they were not going into the interval with a lead. Quick thinking from Wellecomme got the ball under control and he went beyond Andrews. It seemed as if the keeper had got a touch on Wellecomme to send the striker tumbling, but the referee gave a oal kick.

Parsons hit the post at the start of the second half as The Scholars carried on where they left off. Defender Tommy Hannigan was quickest to the rebound.

Parsons brought another fine save out of Andrews as Chasetown looked for the breakthrough goal.

Eventually, this came 19 minutes from time. Simon Brown got the assist with the ball into Wellecomme who kept the ball under control to battle strongly through two Rainworth defenders, holding off a third to fire his shot beyond Andrews.

Wellecomme and substitute Jack Lees had chances to give the victory margin a further goal but Chasetown were worthy winners against a Miners side that had brought in six new players with a new manager in the week.

Rainworth Miners Welfare: Andrews, McGowan, Brown, Freeman, Hannigan, Mitchell, J Brown (Rennalls, 62 mins), Williams, Ford, Ryan, Whitman (Francis, 76 mins)

Subs: Gill, Gregory, Coupe (not used)

Chasetown: Bateman, Johnson, Ravenhill, Slater, Dallison, Downes, Butler (S Brown, 66 mins), Parsons, Wellecomme, Waite (Lees, 88 mins), Edwards (Davies, 76 mins)

Subs: Evans, McDonald (not used)

Claudio's future at Baggies

CLAUDIO Yacob has pledged his future to Albion after talks with boss Alan Irvine.

The 27-year-old Argentinia midfielder attracted interest from Eastern Europe and had a poor pre-season.

He was expected to move on during the summer, but has now had a change of heart and put it all behind him ready to focus on the Baggies' cause again.

"Claudio has been fantastic because he came in and said to me he's settled," said Irvine. We had a very casual chat and he just said 'I've been unsettled and my head has been unsure what's happening, but now I'm completely focused and I can just get on with being the best I can be'."

Irvine tips Seb to be cult hero

ALAN IRVINE has backed Sebastien Pocognoli to become an Albion cult hero as the defender was passed fit to return against Everton on Saturday.

The Belgium international has returned to full training after a hamstring injury and is in line to start against the Toffees after missing the last two games.

"He likes a tackle and I think the fans will probably take to him," said Irvine, who signed the 27-year-old from Hannover 96 in the summer.

Jackett ready to wait for players

WOLVES boss Kenny Jackett said he will give his international stars as much time as possible to prove their fitness.

Mali pair Bakary Sako and Nouha Dicko were due back from African Nations Cup qualifier away to Algeria this week.

Lee Evans, who was in action for Wales Under-21s away to Lithuania, was due back in training today.

All three have been ever present in Jackett's side so far this season, with an unchanged line-up named for all five Championship games.

A decision on captain Sam Ricketts, who was sent back from Wales duty last week with a hip injury, will also be taken as late as possible.

After a fortnight without a game, Wolves' trip to Blackpool is the first of three games in eight days, with Charlton away on Tuesday night and Bolton at home the following Saturday.

Head coach Jackett said: "Sako and Dicko will be available for the Blackpool game, but I don't need to make a decision until Friday morning when we've seen how people are from watching them.

"Even if I play them on Saturday, Tuesday night at Charlton will come very quickly."

Lockmen give up the lead

Wellington FC 2
Willenhall Town 1

WELLINGTON had two good chances blazed high and wide before the Lockmen took a deserved lead on 22 minutes.

A deep free-kick from out on the right was pumped crossfield and the ball was eventually fed to centre-half Graham Ashton who blasted into the net.

The sucker punch arrived on 84 minutes when The Lockmen gave away possessionto an unmarked Hunt who fired home for the final score.

Football

BOSS Dean Smith has played down the prospect of loan deals to help winless Walsall survive their early-season injury crisis.

Smith insisted he will show faith with his young stars despite the Saddlers' poor start to the League One season extending to six games without a victory.

The loan window for Football League clubs opened on Tuesday but Smith, who was without seven players for Saturday's goalless home draw with fellow strugglers Colchester, is reluctant to use it.

And he played down the significance of the early-season table, which has his side in the drop zone after four draws and two defeats so far.

Smith said: "It is a lot of players to have out but we've got a budget we work to and we've got a fairly big squad. If you go and borrow players where does the experience come from for your young players?

"We're not afraid to put the young players in and there's evidence of that over the last couple of years.

"We're not worried about the table because we're six games in, but we're worried that we haven't scored enough goals.

"Tom Bradshaw has been the other goalscorer in the League so far for us.

"Unfortunately players read newspapers and listen to comments on social media, where people can have a free pop at them.

"But we believe in what we're doing, we're trying to get young players through.

"The calibre of players we've got missing at the moment have proven to be very good at this level. But the young kids have come in and done very well, especially Liam Kinsella. We're six points off the play-offs so are we in a relegation battle? No, I don't think so."

Smith admitted he was "worried" when Colchester appealed for a penalty early in the second half on Saturday after Sanchez Watt went down under Paul Downing's challenge.

OSBORNE TANS HYDE FOR WIN

Hyde 0 Hednesford Town 1

A goal from Jamey Osborne just before the half time break secured a 1-0 victory for Hednesford Town against Hyde.

Football

Steve Tames had the first of several chances on goal on 12 minutes for the hosts as his header was tipped over by Dan Crane.

However, from the resulting corner The Pitmen sprung a rapid break away as Darren Campion played in James Hurst and, after he sprayed a fantastic pass across the pitch, Alex Melbourne teed up Danny Glover who hit a wicked shot on to the roof of the net.

Strongly

The game had a rather tetchy feel to it until Hyde came strongly into the game with Tames heading wide when free at the back post before he breezed past Paul McCone but saw his shot hit the inside of the post and bounce clear.

Tames, McCone and Campion all received bookings for their part in a heated exchange.

Then Osborne's goal broke the deadlock when Christian Thewlis should have dealt better with a shot from distance after Kris Taylor set the chance up with a precise pass through the defender's legs.

Hednesford started the second half well and Thewlis made an absolutely superb save to deny DarrenCampion a goal after Osborne brilliantly controlled another sumptuous crossfield ball by Hurst but the Pitmen were made to sweat towards the end.

Reece Gray hit a left foot shot from distance which struck the top of the bar and Tames curled a shot inches wide as the Pitmen looked stretched down both flanks as they searched for a decisive second goal.

The away faithful had a nervy final 10 minutes as the home side desperately searched for an elusive equaliser and although Hyde enjoyed the lion's share of possession in their attacking half Hednesford held on for a first away win. Guiseley visit Keys Park on Saturday .

Hyde: Thewlis, Thurston, Brownhill, Brizell, Ball, O'Connor, Hughes, Blakeman (Gray 62), Tames, Benthan, Giverin (Walker 84),

Hednesford: Crane, Hurst, Campion, McCone, Westwood, Taylor (Ashmore 70), Osborne 45, Melbourne (Mcquilkin 90), Glover, Peers (Sullivan 81), Thorley,

Penalty a piece sees Scholars share the points

Chasetown 1 Newcastle Town 1

NEWCASTLE Town must be wondering what they need to do to overcome Chasetown this season.

After a 1-1 draw in the FA Cup and dominating large periods of the replay that they eventually lost, they dominated large parts of the league fixture and were denied by a brilliant late goal-line clearance.

An early chance to Nick Wellecomme was all that came from the Scholars No.9 as he limped out of the action after just eight minutes with a groin strain, to be replaced by Simon Brown.

Newcastle had the majority of shots in the first half and took the lead in the 54th minute when Dexter Ravenhill was adjudged to have tripped Ben Mills and Matthew Lowe sent John Bateman the wrong way from the penalty spot.

Chasetown eventually levelled 14 minutes from time when Simon Brown was sent tumbling by visiting keeper Adam Alcock as he pushed the ball beyond the Newcastle keeper. Alcock received a yellow card and Brown himself sent a powerful penalty into the roof of the net.

Late on, John Gordon fired goalwards and beyond Bateman but somehow skipper Chris Slater got back to wrap his foot around the ball and clear off the goal line.

10-man Khalsa take it

Sporting Khalsa 4
Wolverhampton Casuals 0
FA Vase 1st Round Qualifying

KHALSA produced an excellent performance to beat Wolverhampton Casuals.

FIFA ready to trial TV replays

A TV replay system – allowing football coaches to challenge a referee's decision – may be trialled next year, FIFA president Sepp Blatter has promised.

The 78-year-old said he wanted coaches to be allowed at least one challenge per half. The trial could happen at next year's FIFA Under-20 World Cup.
